A spirit of independence. A focus on financial well-being.

When Bob James founded Raymond James in 1962, he did so based on a belief that clients deserved more than help with investment decisions – they needed advice that considered their entire financial picture.

As a result, Raymond James has always been a different kind of firm. One that embraces long-term planning, methodical decision-making and remains focused on what matters most: you, the client.

That approach has continually supported our growth as a preeminent financial firm serving clients across North America and overseas. Further, the company has expanded through the years to serve corporations, institutions and municipalities through significant capital markets, banking and asset management services.

Nearly 60 years later, Raymond James has upheld a reputation of strength and stability through every kind of market environment.

Market conditions can magnify any potential for loss. If the market turns against the client, he or she may be required to quickly deposit additional securities and/or cash in the account(s) or pay down the loan to avoid liquidation. The securities in the Pledged Account(s) may be sold to meet the Collateral Call, and the firm may sell the client's securities without contacting them. A client may not be entitled to choose which securities or other assets in his or her account are liquidated or sold to meet a Collateral Call. In many cases, the firm may increase its maintenance requirements at any time and is not required to provide a client advance written notice. A client may not be entitled to an extension of time on a Collateral Call. Increased interest rates could also affect LIBOR rates (or any successor rate thereto) that apply to your line of credit causing the cost of the credit line to increase significantly. The interest rates charged are determined by (i) the market value of pledged assets and the net value of the client's non-pledged Capital Access account or (ii) the line of credit amount. Lines of credit are provided by Raymond James Bank. Raymond James & Associates, Inc., and Raymond James Financial Services, Inc., are affiliated with Raymond James Bank, a federally chartered national bank.

Property insurance is required. Flood insurance is required if property is in a designated flood zone of 'A' or 'V.'

Raymond James & Associates, Inc., and Raymond James financial advisors do not solicit or offer residential mortgage products and are unable to accept any residential mortgage loan applications or to offer or negotiate terms of any such loan. Please refer to a qualified Raymond James Bank employee for your clients' residential mortgage lending needs.

CHARITABLE GIVING

A thoughtful approach to philanthropy

While many individuals give to charity, few take the time to create a well-designed charitable strategy that considers personal tax benefits and control over your investments. We can assist with strategies such as:

- Donor advised funds
- Charitable remainder trusts
- Charitable lead trusts
- Pooled income funds
- Charitable gift annuities
- Private family foundations

A popular giving option: Donor Advised Funds

Similar to a private foundation, a donor advised fund provides an immediate full tax benefit and lets you donate to your favorite charities, with less expense and setup.

Donors are urged to consult their attorneys, accountants or tax advisors with respect to questions relating to the deductibility of various types of contributions to a Donor-Advised Fund for federal and state tax purposes.

To learn more about the potential risks and benefits of Donor Advised Funds, please contact us.

EDUCATION PLANNING

Funding higher education for generations to come

Investing in education, whether for one's family or others, is an investment in someone's future. For many of our clients, this is a fundamental philosophy and responsibility.

We help our clients have a meaningful impact on generations to come by:

- Identifying tax-efficient options, including 529s and Coverdell Education Savings Accounts
- Delineating who controls the funds
- Determining risk tolerance in investments
- Reviewing all factors in funding education for future generations

Certain conditions may apply. Earnings in 529 plans are not subject to federal tax and in most cases state tax, as long as you use withdrawals for eligible education expenses, such as tuition and room and board. However, if you withdraw money from a 529 plan and do not use it on an eligible education expense, you generally will be subject to income tax and an additional 10% federal tax penalty on earnings. As with other investments, there are generally fees and expenses associated with participation in a 529 plan. There is also a risk that these plans may lose money or not perform well enough to cover education costs as anticipated. Most states offer their own 529 programs, which may provide advantages and benefits exclusively for their residents. An investor should consider, before investing, whether the investor's or designated beneficiary's home state offers any state tax or other benefits that are only available for investments in such state's qualified tuition program. Such benefits include financial aid, scholarship funds, and protection from creditors. The tax implications can vary significantly from state to state.

FIXED INCOME

Building a foundation

Fixed income investments are an essential component of a well-diversified financial plan and can support your aspirations with a reliable stream of income.

With a deep understanding of bonds and fixed income investments, we can help you integrate these core investments into your custom financial plan using a process that is defined, focused and disciplined. We offer a broad range of true fixed income investments at competitive pricing, offered in competition by more than 100 dealers across alternate trading platforms.

- U.S. treasuries
- Agency and government-sponsored enterprise bonds
- Brokered certificates of deposit
- Corporate bonds
- Mortgage-backed securities
- Municipal bonds
- Preferred securities

Bond prices and yields are subject to change based upon market conditions and availability. If bonds are sold prior to maturity, you may receive more or less than your initial investment. There is an inverse relationship between interest rate movements and fixed income prices. Generally, when interest rates rise, fixed income prices fall and when interest rates fall, fixed income prices rise.

Exiting shareholders in particular can implement buyback plans as part of an accretive strategy.

If you're interested in a repurchase program, Raymond James has a dedicated team of corporate trading consultants ready to work with your company, thoughtfully assessing and executing the best structure to fulfill your corporate needs.

At-the-Market (ATM) Offerings

- At-the-Market (ATM) offerings enable an issuer to sell primary shares into the public markets at prevailing market prices. The offerings are “continuous,” meaning they are available immediately whenever issuers need to raise capital.
- ATMs provide companies with a highly flexible, low cost means to raise common equity and serve as an additional tool for ongoing capital management.
- Unlike underwritten offerings, ATM offerings can be accessed daily, allowing the issuer to increase sales during periods of stock price strength and slow or halt sales during periods of stock price weakness. Additionally, there is no discount to the market price, unlike most fully underwritten offerings.
