Spring 2016

Vol 6. Issue 1

TPG Client Event

We recently hosted a Valentine's luncheon at the delicious Radice Restaurant in Blue Bell.

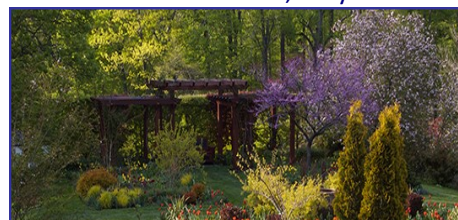

Springtime is here to stay

Despite the warmest November and December months in recent history, this 2016 spring season had a couple of false starts, including an April snowstorm! Now that we can expect sunnier days and warmer temperatures, we can also look forward to the blooming flowers that signal spring. Here are some of the best local viewing spots to enjoy:

Bartram Gardens, Philadelphia, PA

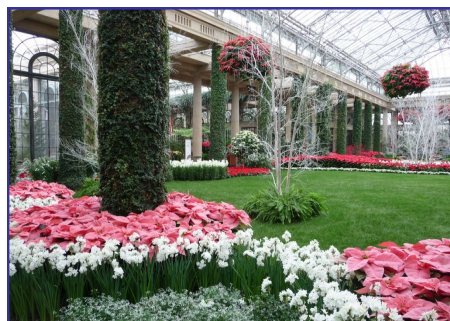

Chanticleer Garden, Wayne PA

Bowman's Hill
New Hope, PA

Stay tuned for a possible Page Group special client event at beautiful Longwood Gardens.

Longwood Gardens, Kennett Square, PA

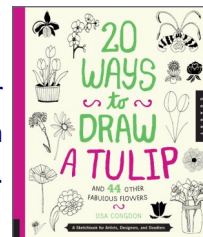

Let's Hear it For Mom!

Here are some unique gift ideas for that special lady on Mother's Day :

Brighten up her table with this set of cheerful lemon tumblers from draperjames.com

"20 Ways to Draw a Tulip and 44 Other Fabulous Flowers" is a great way for any mom to enjoy the adult coloring book trend.

If she loves flowers, then this bud vase is a unique way to display them. Available at uncommongoods.com

Staying Informed

Is there a Connection between IRS Audits and Tax Return Extensions?

Some folks file for an IRS tax extension every year. An extension will give you 6 more months to file your Federal income tax return – although you must still pay any tax owed by the original due date (typically April 15th).

No one outside the IRS knows for sure how the audit selection system really works, but many CPAs have said that tax extensions may actually decrease your chances of getting audited. Some think there is a quota system and that these “quotas” are filled during March and April. Extensions miss this list.

Keep in mind, anyone who files for an IRS extension gets it with no questions asked. By filing for a tax extension, you are actually demonstrating compliance with IRS regulations.

So, in the future, if you need more time to gather your data... file for an extension and be ok with it.

How do you like to spend Mother's Day?

Danielle: May is the perfect time to spend outdoors in my gardens and Mother's Day afternoon is reserved for exactly that.

Erin: Planting and working in the garden with the kids has become a Mother's Day tradition. I also look forward to our school's "Muffins with Mom" event.

Denise: A gentle yoga class followed by brunch with my kids, my mom & mother-in-law fills my cup.

Anna: Brunch at my restaurant of choice is perfect!
