Manager Research & Due Diligence

A CLOSER LOOK

104th edition

RAYMOND JAMES

It's in the details ...

On behalf of the entire Asset Management Services (AMS) Due Diligence team, we appreciate your interest, confidence and trust in AMS. Because this booklet is client approved, we would like to remind you and your clients of a few things:

- Past performance is not guaranteed in the future. Please review each RJCS manager's composite performance disclosure before investing.
- The stock market has produced a pre-fee, pre-tax annual rate of return of about 10.32% from January 1, 1926, through December 31, 2022, according to Ibbotson's Yearbook. Investors should not expect to return 10.32% every year; for instance, there have been 25 calendar years with a negative return over those same 96 years. In other words, to invest in equities, one must have a long-term time horizon (at least five years).
- We recommend diversification whenever possible to reach your long-term investment goals. Investment styles and the success of investment managers often run in cycles; therefore, choosing three or more complementing investment disciplines may smooth out the overall short-term volatility of a client's portfolio. Moreover, extreme patience may be required if one is putting all of his or her eggs in one manager's basket.

Alger Small Cap Focus Analyst Departure

In October 2022, Alger announced that Claire Chamberlin, VP and analyst, is no longer with the firm. Having joined Alger's centralized team in 2018 and Amy Zhang's dedicated team in 2020, Chamberlin was primarily responsible for consumer stocks with secondary coverage on a few healthcare names. Chamberlin's coverage has been reassigned to existing members of the team, including Peter Chang, Chris Lin, and two new hires Robert Rapaport and Vasu Kasibhotla. Alger mentioned they are comfortable with the current team and will upgrade/add to the team when they find the candidate who is the right fit for the role.

The AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team spoke with Zhang and the team recently and we will keep a close eye on the people, performance, and portfolio as the investment team has experienced an elevated level of analyst turnover in the last couple of years.

Allspring Global Investments Team Addition

In October 2022, Allspring Global Investments notified the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team that Tan Song Chao (Gary Tan), has joined the Intrinsic Emerging Markets Equity team as a portfolio manager based in Singapore. In addition to duties on the investment team, Tan will serve as executive director and CEO of Allspring's local entity, Allspring Global Investments (Singapore) Pte. Ltd.

Tan joined Allspring from Natixis Investment Managers, most recently serving as the lead portfolio manager for Asia equity strategies. Prior to that, Tan was a research coordinator and lead analyst for Greater China, North Asia, and Australia and a global emerging markets environmental, social, and governance coordinator. Earlier roles include serving as a senior investment manager for Abu Dhabi Investment Authority and as a vice president at Oaktree Capital Management. Tan earned a bachelor's degree in accountancy from Nanyang Technological University, is a CFA charterholder, and a member of CFA Society Singapore.

The AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team views the hiring positively as the team adds resources and depth to the research team. Our team will discuss expected coverage shifts, new additions as well as reshuffling of responsibilities in upcoming calls with the investment team with no major changes expected in the meantime.

American Funds/Capital Group Product Update

In November 2022, Capital Group notified the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team effective November 15, 2022, Washington Mutual Investors Fund (WMIF) and the American Mutual Fund (AMF), and their corresponding separately managed accounts strategies, eliminated restrictions on investments in companies that derive a majority of their revenue from alcohol or tobacco products. According to the firm, they are removing the alcohol and tobacco restrictions to avoid the strategies being inadvertently classified as ESG-oriented investments under certain pending regulations. While Capital Group does not offer strategies that pursue ESG objectives, consideration of material ESG risks and opportunities is deeply woven into the Capital System and factored into the fundamental research, due diligence, and engagement by investment professionals for all of the firm's investment strategies.

There will be no changes to the current investment objectives of the Funds and corresponding SMAs. The AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team will discuss the announcement in greater detail in upcoming meetings with no portfolio, process, or philosophy changes expected in the meantime.

Federated Hermes Upcoming Retirement

In November 2022, Federated Hermes informed the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team Randy Bauer, senior portfolio manager and head of the low duration/structured products group, will retire April 3, 2023. Bauer joined Federated in 1989 and has been in the industry for over 40 years. Bauer will continue in his role as senior portfolio manager through April 3, 2023, while working with current long-time low duration/structured product team members Nick Tripodes, senior portfolio manager, and Daniel Mastalski, portfolio manager, to transition responsibilities. On January 1, 2023, Tripodes became co-head of the team with Bauer until Bauer's retirement in April.

Over the past year, the company has been planning for this succession by broadening responsibilities and adding resources to the team. There will be no changes to the investment process or strategy. Tripodes and Mastalski will continue managing assets utilizing the same investment process that has been used since the inception of the strategies.

Tripodes and Mastalski have worked together on the team for 14 years and have a combined 40+ years of investing experience. Both will have day-to-day responsibilities for the portfolios after Bauer retires. Tripodes and Mastalski will continue to be supported by an experienced investment team that includes three analysts averaging more than nine years of investment experience. Further support is provided by 28 credit analysts, a performance attribution team, client portfolio manager, and fifteen fixed-income traders.

The AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team will discuss the announcement in greater detail in upcoming meetings with no portfolio, process, or philosophy changes expected in the meantime.

Impax Asset Management renames Pax World Funds to Impax Funds

In October 2022, The AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team was notified that Impax Asset Management, the specialist asset manager investing in the transition to a more sustainable economy and investment adviser to the Pax World Funds, announced the Pax World Funds would be renamed Impax Funds effective December 31, 2022. The announcement follows the decision by the board of trustees of the Pax World Funds to change the name of the mutual funds to align with Impax Asset Management's global brand positioning. For each of the 11 Pax World Funds, "Pax" will be replaced by "Impax".

The name changes stem from Impax Asset Management Group acquiring Pax World Management LLC, investment adviser to the Pax World Funds, in 2018. In North America, Impax manages not only the Pax World family of mutual funds, but also separately managed accounts, segregated institutional mandates, sub-advised accounts, and other investments on behalf of financial intermediaries, consultants, their clients, and institutional investors. J.P. Morgan Small Cap Equity Fund News

In October 2022, J.P. Morgan Investment Management announced all share classes of the J.P. Morgan small cap fund will reopen to new investors on October 28, 2022. Given the broader market selloff combined with the fact that the portfolio has been in a limited offering since late 2016, our team views the decision to reopen the strategy as sensible. The strategy has experienced natural attrition over that time giving the team an opportunity to reopen the fund. Additionally, one of the portfolio managers on the small-cap equity fund, Daniel Percella, was added to the J.P. Morgan Equity Focus Fund. The AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team will continue to monitor fund assets and capacity management as the fund reopens to new investors. No portfolio, process, or people changes are expected as a result of the announcement.

John Hancock/Manulife Team Promotions

In October 2022, The AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team was notified that Joseph Nowinski and Ryan Davies will be added to the portfolio management team of the John Hancock Small Cap Core strategy. Nowinski will retain his analyst coverage of companies in the energy, materials, industrials, and real estate investment trust sectors and will also be a named portfolio manager on all of the team's institutional investment strategies. Nowinski has 30 years of investing experience and has been with the team since 2005. Davies will retain his analyst coverage of companies in the information technology and communication services sectors and will be a named portfolio manager on all of the team's institutional investment strategies as well. Davies has over 25 years of investing experience and joined the team in 2018.

Our team views the promotions in a positive light as recognition of efforts and contributions to the team and product over the years. We are scheduled to conduct a review of the recent announcement with no portfolio, product, or philosophy changes anticipated.

MFS New Discovery Value Fund Team Changes

In December 2022, MFS notified the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team effective December 21, 2023, co-portfolio manager Kevin Schmitz will relinquish his portfolio management responsibilities on the New Discovery Value strategy, where he was a listed portfolio manager since 2011. Schmitz will continue to serve as a co-portfolio manager of the MFS Mid Cap Value Fund. Richard Offen currently serves as a co-portfolio manager on the New Discovery Value Fund and will remain in the same capacity. Offen joined MFS in 2011 and has served as a member of the portfolio management team for the Fund since 2019.

The AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team will discuss the announcement in greater detail in our upcoming meetings with no portfolio, process, or philosophy changes expected in the meantime.

Anchor Capital Balanced and All Cap Value Personnel Changes

In October 2022, Anchor Capital informed the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team Neeraj Mahajan, analyst of the Anchor Balanced Value and Anchor All Cap Value strategies, would be leaving the firm effective December 31, 2022 to explore other career aspirations.

Beginning in 2020 Anchor made a point of deepening their research staff and has since hired several additional analysts to further bolster the ranks of the investment committee. Church Waesche joined the firm on December 1, 2020 and Tigran Navasardian joined as a full-time investment team member as of May 1, 2022. Anchor also announced, effective October 31, 2022, Navasardian would join the All Cap & Balanced Value strategy teams as a full-time analyst and contributing team member.

We view the building of depth on the investment team as a positive and there should not be any impacts to stock selection and the investment process but will pursue these topics in future meeting with the firm.

ClearBridge Personnel and Process Changes

In November 2022, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team was informed by ClearBridge Investments that two of the portfolio managers on the International Value ADR strategy would be removed from the portfolio management team and a new portfolio manager would be added. Paul Ehrlichman and Safa Muhtaseb, who have managed the strategy since 2007, will be coming off of the strategy. Sean Bogda, who has been a portfolio manager on this strategy since 2007, and Grace Su, who has been on the portfolio management team since 2017, will remain on the strategy. They will be joined by Jean Yu who has over 20 years of experience and also co-manages the Value Equity Strategy. Yu received her MBA from Duke University in Health Sector Management and Finance and a PhD in Molecular Biology from Columbia University. She started her career as an analyst covering health care, industrials, and Chinese internet stocks. We were also informed that the team plans on revamping the process and will shift from more of a deep value approach to a more quality value focused approach following the team changes.

While we find the remaining portfolio managers and the new addition to the team impressive, we feel the departure of two of the portfolio managers, the shifting of responsibilities on the team, and the upcoming portfolio changes are a cause for concern and we will discuss in future meetings with the team.

Delaware Large Value Team Update

In October 2022, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team was notified that Robert (Bob) Vogel, senior portfolio manager for the U.S. Large Cap Value Equity team, decided to retire from the firm in July 2023. Until the retirement date, he will remain an active member of the team, conducting fundamental research and having portfolio management responsibilities, along with working to ensure a smooth transition and provide continuity for clients.

Since 2017 and in recent years, the team has added four new members to its ranks to deepen its research capabilities. Additionally, over the past three years, the team has instituted a dual coverage approach whereby at least two team members share research coverage for a given sector. In the coming weeks, the firm is expected to begin a search with the goal of hiring a new research analyst within the next six months.

The AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team will discuss the announcement in greater detail in our upcoming meetings with no portfolio, process, or philosophy changes expected as a result of the announcement.

Polen Capital Focus Growth Lowered Separate Account Minimum

In November 2022, members of the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team were notified by Polen Capital that the firm would like to open the opportunity for clients to access the Focus Growth strategy at a lower minimum of $100,000. The team strives to continue to be a good partner and accommodate new clients with a lower minimum given the current market environment and the team’s confidence in their ability to manage capacity prudently. The previous separate account minimum had been $1 million based on rapid asset growth at the firm.

Our team does not expect any process, portfolio, or philosophy changes following the announcement in addition to the fact that the team continues to actively manage any new investments and access to the strategy.

AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence is pleased to announce the addition of a new strategy to the RJCS platform, AllianceBernstein L.P. Municipal Income Portfolio strategy.

AllianceBernstein L.P. is a New York, NY based investment firm founded in 1971 and is majority owned by Equitable Holdings Inc. (NYSE: "EQH"). The portfolio is backed by an experienced management team led by portfolio manager, Terry Hults, and is focused on bringing technological innovation to fixed income markets. AllianceBernstein's proprietary tool, Abbie Optimizer, is designed to deliver tech-driven alpha through trading speed, cost-efficient trading, and tax optimization.

AllianceBernstein believes that inefficiencies in the municipal markets result in mispricing that provide the largest probability of generating alpha. The investment process uses a combination of both quantitative and fundamental research to identify and exploit these inefficiencies and maximize investors' after-tax returns. The strategy employs a flexible investment mandate across the municipal universe. The actively managed strategy seeks to earn the highest available level of current tax-exempt income through high quality municipal bonds with the flexibility to allocate to select high-income municipals. The strategy manages interest-rate risk by targeting the intermediate part of the yield curve.

The strategy's investments holds only municipal bonds. A maximum of 45% can be allocated to municipal credit, primarily held in issues rated BB and higher. The strategy also utilizes commingled funds to access diversified segments of the municipal market at cost-efficient prices. A maximum of 45% can be allocated to completion funds.

AllianceBernstein Municipal Income Portfolio has the potential to outperform the benchmark over a full-market cycle. The strategy should perform well when intermediate-term municipals are in favor and underperform during periods where lower-quality municipal bonds are materially outperforming.

AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence is pleased to announce the addition of a new strategy to the RJCS platform, Coho Partners Ltd. Relative Value Equity strategy.

Coho Partners Ltd., founded in 1999, is an independent, employee-owned investment management firm headquartered in Berwyn, Pennsylvania and manages in excess of $5.5 billion as of September 30, 2022. The strategy is led by portfolio manager, Peter Thompson, and three other experienced portfolio managers with the team averaging over 20 years of investment experience. The Coho Relative Value strategy seeks to provide downside protection during difficult periods and capture consistent, competitive upside participation. The team uses in-depth fundamental research to narrow their universe and focus on companies that have shown long-term stability and growth in most economic environments.

The Coho Relative Value process begins by screening securities within their universe that includes about 1,200 companies to create their focus universe which is referred to as the "Coho 250." The team uses both quantitative and qualitative inputs that seek to find companies with low variability in earnings, growth in revenues, earnings and dividends, strong balance sheets, and excess free cash flow generation. Once the universe has been narrowed to the "Coho 250," the team then executes thorough fundamental research to assess stability and predictability of business models, management strength, and will meet with other sources such as competitors, suppliers, and customers. A dividend discount model will be constructed for each company using conservative assumptions to evaluate the attractiveness of a stock based on its operating and financial metrics. The team will also create a "position paper" which serves as a scorecard with key financial and operational metrics that are tracked continuously.

The portfolio is categorized by two types of companies: demand defensive companies and economically sensitive companies. Demand defensive companies will make up 40%-70% of the portfolio, while economically sensitive companies will make up 30%-60% of the portfolio.

Coho's Relative Value portfolio will typically hold 25 to 30 securities and security weights will be between 2% and 6% with cash typically below 5% of the portfolio. Annual turnover for the portfolio tends to be between 15% and 20%.

The Coho Relative Value strategy has the potential to outperform its benchmark and peers over a full market cycle. The strategy may exhibit stronger relative returns and good downside protection potential in down markets. The strategy tends to lag in strong or speculative bull markets. Coho's Relative Value strategy provides exposure to a value-oriented large-cap equity manager. The strategy should be used as a portion of a client's overall asset allocation and may complement investments in a growth-oriented large-cap manager.

New Consulting Services Disciplines

AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence is pleased to announce the addition of a new strategy to the RJCS platform, through the use of the J.P. Morgan Asset Management US Equity strategy.

J.P. Morgan Asset Management is a New York, NY based investment firm and is an SEC-registered investment advisor and an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of JPMC, a publicly traded corporation that is listed on the New York Stock Exchange (Ticker: "JPM"). The firm was founded in 1984 and manages in excess of $2 trillion as of September 30, 2022. Tenured, lead portfolio manager Scott Davis, manages the strategy and is supported by a central research team of over 20 US equity analysts. In-depth fundamental research and daily interactive team discussion driving stock selection are also advantages for the strategy.

The JPMorgan US Equity strategy emphasizes bottom-up stock selection with minimal exposure to risks associated with market timing or factor bets. The team focuses on fundamental analysis to identify quality companies with competitive advantages, sustainable return on capital, and strong balance sheets that are trading at attractive valuations. JPMorgan's US Equity strategy aims to deliver consistent outperformance relative to the S&P 500 by focusing on attractively valued large-cap stocks where they feel they have the greatest insights and conviction. They believe a company's stock price should reflect the present value of its long-term future cash flows and their approach aims to deliver strong investment results by identifying mispricing in a company's stock price.

The universe of investable securities consists of about 500 companies within the S&P 500 and Russell 1000 indices. The investment process can be broken down into three key steps: creating an informational advantage, utilizing a systematic valuation process, and portfolio construction with a focus on stock selection.

The team begins by seeking an information advantage through proprietary, fundamental research that is conducted by their team of dedicated buy-side analysts. During this step, the analysts spend their time meeting with company managements, suppliers, competitors, and other sources to get a full understanding of the investment drivers of the stocks they are covering. The goal is to understand the dynamics of the company's business, its growth prospects, and the sustainability of its competitive position.

The next step of the process centers around their proprietary valuation process. The main inputs to the valuation process are the analysts' forecasts of company earnings and dividends, the long-term forecasts of future earnings, cash flows, as well as a stock's current price. The inputs seek to determine "normalized" long-term earnings and determine if today's price is attractive. Stocks are ranked into quintiles within their sectors with the most attractively valued stocks in the first quintile and the most overvalued stocks ranked in the fifth quintile.

For portfolio construction, the portfolio managers will work with the research analysts to select among the most attractively valued stocks within each sector and will tend to focus on the first or second quintile. JPMorgan's US Equity portfolio only invests in U.S listed, U.S. dollar-denominated securities with a minimum $1 billion market capitalization. Securities are held at +/-4% weights relative to the S&P 500 index. Sector weights are also held at +/-4% relative to the index. The maximum weight in any one stock is limited to 5% of the portfolio at time of purchase.

The JPMorgan US Equity strategy has the potential to outperform its benchmark and peers over a full market cycle. The strategy may exhibit stronger relative returns when the market values companies on their fundamental long-term expected profitability. The strategy tends to lag in markets where the market values securities based on characteristics outside of fundamentals. JPMorgan's US Equity strategy provides domestic large-cap core exposure with minimal style and sector bets. The strategy should be employed as a portion of a client's overall asset allocation or paired with managers who take on more active risk.

Investing involves risk and you may incur a profit or a loss. There is no assurance that any investment strategy will be successful. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. Dividends are not guaranteed.

New Consulting Services Disciplines

AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence is pleased to announce the addition of a new strategy to the RJCS platform, J.P. Morgan Asset Management US Large-cap Growth strategy.

J.P. Morgan Asset Management is a New York, NY based investment firm and is an SEC-registered investment advisor and an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of JPMC, a publicly traded corporation that is listed on the New York Stock Exchange (Ticker: "JPM"). The firm was founded in 1984 and manages in excess of $2 trillion as of September 30, 2022. Tenured, lead portfolio manager Giri Devulapally, has managed the strategy since 2005 and is supported by a team of dedicated analysts, but also has access to the broad central research team of JPMorgan with over 20 US equity analysts. In-depth fundamental research and daily interactive team discussion driving stock selection are also advantages for the strategy.

The J.P. Morgan US Large-cap Growth strategy follows a fundamental, bottom-up approach that combines stock selection and risk management. The investment philosophy is based on the belief that long-term outperformance is achieved by investing in companies where the team perceives a disconnect between fundamentals and market expectations. Stocks typically have a large addressable market undergoing meaningful change, sustainable competitive advantages, and strong price momentum.

The idea generation process is designed to narrow the large-cap growth universe from approximately 800 names down to an investible universe of 150–200 high quality growth stocks. The initial screen to help narrow the universe incorporates earnings revisions, stock price momentum, and valuation. The goal is to help the team focus their attention on the stocks that have the greatest potential to be truly outstanding stocks. The second step of the process is fundamental analysis where Devulapally and team will focus their efforts on companies where the market has started to recognize the existence of positive fundamentals, or where structural reasons exist for companies to continue to exceed market expectations over the intermediate to long-term.

During the fundamental analysis phase, the team assesses the company's competitive dynamics in the market, evaluates attractiveness of the business model and the track record of management's ability to execute, and finally balance sheet strength. The team focuses on talking with company management, suppliers, and competitors to help better understand the competitive landscape. The final phase of the process is portfolio construction in-which the portfolio is typically weighted based on the risk-adjusted expected return of each stock.

The portfolio is constructed on a bottom-up basis and typically holds 60-90 companies that are weighted by conviction. Individual position sizes are typically limited to +/-5% relative to the portfolio's benchmark, the Russell 1000 Growth. The strategy does not have any formal sector constraints and is constructed on a bottom-up basis. However, Devulapally does pay close attention to the sector weight's relative to the benchmark. The expected tracking error is between 3-6%. Portfolios are typically fully invested with cash less than 5%. Portfolio turnover is expected to be between 25%-50% per year.

This strategy has the potential to outperform the benchmark over the long term with a similar risk profile. The strongest relative returns are more likely to occur in markets where growth companies with fundamentally sound financials are favored. The weakest relative returns are more likely to occur in highly speculative markets or where value stocks drive the market. This strategy provides exposure to a traditional bottom-up large-cap growth manager. This would complement investments in traditional large-cap value managers and is best used as a portion of the client's overall asset allocation.

Investing involves risk and you may incur a profit or a loss. There is no assurance that any investment strategy will be successful. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. Dividends are not guaranteed.

WatchList Update

Removed from the Research WatchList:

Allspring Global Investments Large-cap Core Strategy

We are pleased to announce that Raymond James Consulting Services ("RJCS") has removed the Allspring Global Investments Large-cap Core strategy from the Research WatchList, effective immediately. RJCS originally placed the strategy on our Research WatchList in February 2020 due to personnel and process changes. In October 2019, Allspring announced the transitioning of leadership of the Large-cap Core strategy after senior portfolio managers Greg Golden and Jeff Moser announced their intentions to retire. Greg Golden stayed at the firm in an advisory role until the end of March 2020 and Jeff Moser remained at the firm through April 2020. Lead portfolio responsibilities transitioned to co-portfolio manager John Campbell and Vince Fioramonti was also added to the Large-cap Core strategy.

Over the last couple of years, our team has met with lead portfolio manager John Campbell and the rest of the team on multiple occasions since the strategy was placed on our Research WatchList. Members from our team also visited their offices earlier this year to get a better understanding of the management of the strategy and observe the new team dynamic following the leadership changes. Stability on the investment team the last couple of years, improvements around performance and consistency of the investment philosophy have led us to regain confidence in the strategy.

In summary, RJCS has removed the Allspring Global Investments Large-cap Core strategy from the Research WatchList effective immediately. The smooth transition of portfolio management duties, improvement in performance, and consistency of investment philosophy have allowed us to gain the required level of comfort to recommend the discipline for future investment.

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) placed the Ancora/Thelen Small-Mid-cap Strategy on our Research WatchList as of June 2021 due to sub-par relative performance.

Ancora/Thelen's Small-Mid-cap equity team seeks to own undervalued stocks of fundamentally sound companies in the market capitalization range of the Russell 2500 Index. The team believes this range of companies affords the greatest opportunity set from which to select underappreciated stocks. Within that universe, they construct a portfolio with three unique buckets of stocks: franchise, underfollowed, and special situation companies. The team believes the bucketed approach can generate alpha over time, with a specific focus given to special situation names. The strategy was created and currently managed by portfolio manager Dan Thelen.

Members of the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team have held regular meetings with Dan Thelen and his supporting analysts to investigate the causes of underperformance and the qualitative factors at play. Of note, the philosophy of conducting extensive fundamental research and investing using three buckets approach has not changed. With the rapid evolution of the small-mid equity investment universe and limited third party coverage, what has concerned us is the seemingly lack of in-depth research support Dan Thelen has encountered over time demonstrated by a small research team. Other than lagging stock selection, sector allocation and a difficult macro environment for their value and smaller cap lean versus its peers and benchmark have dragged performance as well.

While the relative underperformance versus the benchmark is cause for concern in and of itself, the underperformance versus the team's similarly managed institutional composites is also concerning. Ancora/Thelen's Small- to Mid-cap SMA composite is managed with the same team, process, and mandate as the RJCS SMA, but given its exposure to smaller and less liquid stocks and trade rotation, the dispersion has been beyond a reasonable level. Various members of our team have discussed the holdings comparisons and trading activities (key drivers of the differing return patterns) with Ancora via conference calls and onsite visits over recent years.

Ultimately, while we continue to hold Dan Thelen and his process in high regard, our confidence in this strategy has deteriorated. Given all of the concerns stated above, AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence has decided to place this strategy on the Research WatchList.

Over the next few quarters our research team will closely monitor:

- Relative performance versus benchmark and peers
- Stock selection, portfolio construction, risk management
- Team dynamic and resources level
- Dispersion among our composite versus its other institutionally managed composites

During this WatchList period, we would encourage a reassessment of your allocation and consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may meet your investment objectives. Depending on your investment objectives and risk tolerances, appropriate alternatives may include:

- Copeland SMID-cap Dividend Growth
- GW&K Small- to- Mid-cap Core
- John Hancock US Small-cap Core
- Kayne SMID-cap Core
- Wasatch Small-cap Value

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) has placed the ClearBridge Investments International Value ADR strategy, on our Research WatchList as of December 2022 due to personnel changes on the portfolio management team and changes to the investment process.

The ClearBridge Investments International Value strategy seeks to invest in low expectation stocks across market capitalizations, in both developed and emerging markets, that are trading below normal valuations and have catalysts in place to spur a return to what they believe is intrinsic value. The contrarian investment style seeks undervalued companies that possess a combination of high quality factors as well as long-term growth potential.

In November 2022, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team was informed by ClearBridge Investments that two of the portfolio managers on the International Value ADR strategy would be removed from the portfolio management team and a new portfolio manager would be added. Paul Ehrlichman and Safa Muhtaseb, who have managed the strategy since 2007, will be coming off of the strategy. Sean Bogda, who has been a portfolio manager on this strategy since 2007, and Grace Su, who has been on the portfolio management team since 2017, will remain on the strategy. They will be joined by Jean Yu who has over 20 years of experience and also co-manages the Value Equity Strategy. Yu received her MBA from Duke University in Health Sector Management and Finance and a PhD in Molecular Biology from Columbia University. She started her career as an analyst covering health care, industrials, and Chinese internet stocks. We were also informed that the team plans on revamping the process and will shift from more of a deep value approach to a more quality value focused approach following the team changes.

While we find the remaining portfolio managers and the new addition to the team impressive, we feel the departure of two of the portfolio managers, the shifting of responsibilities on the team, and the upcoming portfolio changes are a cause for concern. Ultimately, given the changes to the team and process, AMS Manager Research has decided to place the International Value ADR strategy on the Research Watchlist.

Over the next few quarters, our research team will closely monitor:

- The transition of Paul Ehrlichman's and Safa Muhtaseb's responsibilities to the remaining team members;
- The overall dynamic of the team with the new portfolio manager addition;
- The performance of the strategy given the team and process changes.

During this WatchList period, we would encourage a reassessment of your allocation and consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may meet your investment objectives. Depending on your investment objectives and risk tolerances, appropriate alternatives for the ClearBridge International Value ADR strategy in RJCS may include:

- Causeway International Value ADR
- Delaware International ADR (Not available in PS UMA)
- Eagle International ADR*
- Lazard International Select ADR
- MFS International Research ADR

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) placed the ClearBridge Investments Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy on our Research WatchList as of February 2020 due to sub-par relative performance.

As of December 31, 2022, the ClearBridge Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy has remained on the WatchList based on persistent underperformance trailing the Russell 3000 Growth Index over 3-, 5-, 7-, and 10-year time periods.

We respect the investment team's consistent philosophy and non-traditional process focused on inefficiently priced companies with the potential for rapid earnings and/or cash flow growth. The process results in a unique, high conviction portfolio that's differentiated from the benchmark and peers. Portfolios of this nature are susceptible to periods of significant performance divergence from their respective benchmarks and must therefore be analyzed over an especially long-term time horizon. However, in the case of the ClearBridge Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy, the magnitude and persistence of relative underperformance over an extended period of time has caused our confidence to wane.

In November 2020, ClearBridge communicated to the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team that Richie Freeman, the architect and longtime portfolio manager of the ClearBridge Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy, will gradually relinquish his portfolio management responsibilities and will be officially stepping off the portfolio on December 31, 2021. Freeman remained a portfolio manager on the strategy until that time and subsequently holds a senior advisory role and retains his management committee membership at the firm. Evan Bauman, co-portfolio manager on the strategy since April 2009, will maintain his portfolio management duties. In addition, seasoned and well-respected portfolio manager Aram Green joined the investment team on March 31, 2021 as co-portfolio manager and will manage the portfolio alongside Bauman after Freeman's departure.

Aram Green has 19 years of investment industry experience and joined ClearBridge in 2006 as a technology analyst before being promoted to portfolio manager a short time later. It is important to note that Green has successfully managed a similar mandate since 2008 as he is the sole portfolio manager of the ClearBridge Select Fund that can be found in Freedom mutual fund models. Green is also a co-portfolio manager on the ClearBridge Small-cap Growth and Mid-cap Growth portfolios, both highly regarded strategies on the RJCS platform.

The ClearBridge Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy will remain on the Research WatchList. In addition to the criteria mentioned in the February 2020 Watch report, our team will closely monitor and set expectations for various factors related to investment team dynamic and portfolio characteristics. A working rapport between Green and Bauman is critical to the long-term success of the strategy, so it will be important to assess how they complement each other in terms of personality, investment mindset, and their expectations and vision for the strategy going forward. Our future discussions with the investment team will focus on the integration of Green into the process, additions of research personnel, interaction among team members, division of labor, and decision-making processes. At the strategy level, our conversations will center on gradual shifts in portfolio characteristics such as style and market cap breakdown, risk guidelines, portfolio turnover, and degree of concentration within sectors and holdings. ClearBridge expressed the intent to transition the product back into the growth style box over time so it will also be important to monitor the potential tax consequences resulting from the gradual repositioning of the portfolio throughout 2021 and 2022.

WatchList Update

Over the next few quarters, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team will closely monitor the strategy based on several criteria:

- Improvement in relative performance versus benchmark and peers
- Performance of high conviction portfolio positions given equity market fluctuations
- Improvement in risk-adjusted performance

During this WatchList period, we encourage a reassessment of your existing allocation and the consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may better meet your investment objectives. Depending on your client's individual investment objective and risk tolerances, appropriate alternatives for this strategy may include:

- Atlanta High Quality Select Equity
- Janus Henderson All-cap Growth
- John Hancock Fundamental All-cap Core
- Parnassus Core Equity

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) has placed the Dana Investment Advisors Social ESG strategy on our Research WatchList as of March 2021 due to consistent sub-par relative performance.

The Dana Social ESG strategy blends socially responsible and quantitative screening with in-depth fundamental analysis to identify companies with low valuations, attractive growth profiles, and cash flows. Dana recognizes that its core competency lies within security selection as opposed to sector timing and therefore creates diversified, equal-weighted portfolios that are sector neutral to the benchmark. Over the history of AMS offering the strategy, the Manager Research & Due Diligence team has met with various members from the Dana Social ESG investment team and had confidence in their ability to manage the strategy. However, prolonged underperformance has caused some of that confidence to deteriorate. As of December 31, 2022, the strategy has trailed the S&P 500 Index over 3-, 5-, 7-, and 10- year time horizons.

Dana Social ESG has trailed the Dana Large-cap Equity portfolio on a 7-, and 10- year gross return time horizon. Our team has confidence in Dana as a firm, but results on these specific products have not met our standards.

Although we acknowledge the headwinds of their portfolio style and believe in the consistent philosophy, process, and team that drive the strategies, such prolonged underperformance due to poor stock selection has raised enough concern to include the strategies on our WatchList.

Over the next few quarters, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team will closely monitor the strategy based on several criteria:

- Improvement in relative performance versus the stated benchmark and peers
- Investment team and asset stability at the strategy level
- Stock selection, portfolio construction and trading activity

During this WatchList period, we would encourage a reassessment of your client's allocation and consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may meet their investment objectives, depending on their investment objectives and risk tolerance. An appropriate alternative for the Dana Investment Advisors Social ESG strategy on the RJCS platform may be:

- ClearBridge Large-cap Growth ESG
- ClearBridge Sustainability Leaders
- Parnassus Core Equity

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) has placed the Neuberger Berman, LLC Sustainable Equity strategy on our Research WatchList as of April 2022 due to personnel changes.

AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence has placed the Neuberger Berman Sustainable Equity strategy on our Research WatchList due to an announced change in portfolio management personnel. The Neuberger Berman Sustainable Equity strategy seeks high-quality, attractively valued companies with long-term growth prospects. The team has historically focused on companies that meet various environmental, social, and corporate governance criteria while focusing on corporate responsibility as a hallmark of a high quality company. In January 2022, Neuberger Berman reached out to the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team to announce that co-portfolio managers Sajjad Ladiwala and Ingrid Dyott, announced their intentions to retire from the firm on June 30, 2022 and December 31, 2022, respectively. Both Ladiwala and Dyott have served as portfolio managers on the strategy for more than 18 years, and the combo took over leadership of the strategy following the retirement of longtime former lead manager Arthur Moretti in early 2016. At the same time, Neuberger Berman announced the addition of Daniel Hanson to the investment team as senior portfolio manager and head of the U.S. Sustainable Equity team effective April 1, 2022. He joined Neuberger Berman from Waddell & Reed Investment Management Corporation, where he served as chief investment officer. Prior to that, he served as head of impact investing for JANA Partners. He has more than 25 years of investing experience with more than 20 years in ESG investing. He will be supported by the remaining seven members of the Sustainable Equity team, who collectively average 17 years of investing experience.

In September 2022, Neuberger informed our team that Rob Moffat, senior research analyst, and Manisha Ali, portfolio specialist, left the firm effective September 16 and September 30, 2022 respectively. Moffat decided to leave the industry, and Ali is pursuing another opportunity. This additional personnel turnover gives us further qualitative concerns about the team.

Our team has long held Ladiwala and Dyott as the key decision makers, and our confidence in the strategy has historically rested with our high opinion of their abilities. We are less familiar with Hanson as an investor and plan to further discern his philosophy on both portfolio management and ESG investing from that of Ladiwala and Dyott in future conversations. In the meantime, we have placed the strategy on our Research WatchList. During this period, our research team will closely monitor:

- Integration of Hanson as the new leader of the strategy and the team;
- Changes in philosophy and process as a result of the change in portfolio management and;
- Working relationship between Hanson and the remaining team members.

During this WatchList period, we would encourage a reassessment of your client's allocation and consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may meet their investment objectives, depending on their investment objectives and risk tolerance. An appropriate alternative for the Neuberger Berman Sustainable Equity Strategy on the RJCS platform may be:

- Brown Large-cap Sustainable Growth
- ClearBridge Dynamic Global Growth & Value ESG MDA
- ClearBridge Sustainability Leaders
- Parnassus Core Equity

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) has placed the Sterling Capital Management Equity Income strategy, and others, on our Research WatchList as of September 2021 due to the founder of the group's retirement and team restructuring.

The Sterling Equity Opportunities Group seeks capital appreciation and risk reduction by constructing portfolios with attractive valuations, robust operating growth, high profitability, and strong balance sheets. The team's philosophy is based upon this "four pillar approach". Each team member then adds a fifth pillar to the approach to develop a portfolio that they will manage for the group. In total, the team marketed six strategies prior to this announcement, five of which were available on RJCS: Equity Income, Special Opportunities, Global Leaders, SMID Opportunities, and Insight.

In July 2021, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team was informed by Sterling Capital Management that George Shipp, founder of Sterling's Equity Opportunities Group ("EOG"), indicated his intent to retire in January 2022. Shipp founded the EOG in 2000 and was the lead portfolio manager of the team's flagship strategies, Equity Income and Special Opportunities. Upon Shipp's retirement, the team will transition from its traditional lead portfolio manager structure to a co-portfolio manager structure. This will result in portfolio management shifts to Equity Income, Special Opportunities, and Global Leaders. Therefore, due to the founder's retirement, portfolio management shifts, and overall team restructuring, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team has decided to place Equity Income, Special Opportunities, and Global Leaders, and on the Research WatchList.

In November 2022, Sterling Capital notified the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence of the resignation of Adam B. Bergman, co-portfolio manager of the firm's Equity Income strategy. Following Bergman's departure, the firm announced that effective November 8, 2022, Jeremy M. Lopez was promoted to serve as co-portfolio manager of the Equity Income strategy. Lopez will share this joint role with Charles J. "Chip" Wittmann. Lopez joined the firm in 2016 and has distinguished himself by establishing a solid record of analytical and portfolio management contributions. Lopez has 25 years of investment experience and, based on his intellect and investment acumen, the firm expects him to continue to build upon the team's tradition of generating attractive risk-adjusted returns for clients.

The firm has communicated that no changes to the long-standing philosophy and process of the aforementioned investment strategies are expected as a result of the announcement. The AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team views the changes as relatively unexpected and will discuss the announcement in greater detail in our upcoming meetings.

Over the next few quarters, our research team will closely monitor:

- The transition of Shipp's duties to other team members;
- The performance of strategies with new portfolio managers and;

Global Capital Markets Summary

Below is a review of the market returns of the major asset classes followed by our research group. Results are proxied by in dices appropriate for the particular region or style orientation and are represented in U.S. $ terms, an important consideration when evaluating the results of Non-U.S. $ denominated assets. The opportunity available to active managers to garner results that exceed such market proxies can vary over time. Some insight into the range of these active management premiums are detailed below, whereby we have measured the top quartile, median, and bottom quartile peer group excess returns to asset class appropriate indices. This indicates whether the median manager would have been expected to outperform the proxy benchmark and how broad the range of excess returns were within that group.

Global Equity Market Summary

The capital markets are becoming increasingly globalized as barriers that restrict the flow of capital steadily decline across many countries. The steady dissolution of inhibitors to cross border investment and the breadth of investable options and increased liquidity in some markets are helping to improve investor attitudes towards placing capital outside one's home country. With globalization comes the opportunity to benefit from additional diversification, a potentially favorable proposition for the stabilization of portfolio risk and return. Below is a summary of the equity capital markets, detailing regional returns based on the exposures of the MSCI EAFE and MSCI Emerging Markets indices as well as a diagnostic look at the drivers within the US market, as proxied by the Russell 3000.

Market Segmentation Study

We have parsed the Russell 3000 Index into equally distributed quartiles in terms of a broad range of fundamental metrics. The measurement shown below reflects the difference between the performance of those securities exhibiting top quartile values for the metric and those exhibiting bottom quartile values. Where top (bottom) quartile values have garnered greater return for the period, the results will fall to the left (right) of the parity axis. The purpose is to illustrate commonly used metrics in light of recent market activity. For example, results favoring lower (4th quartile) values for Price/Earnings and Price/Book Value may indicate a value tilt and/or a search for stability while results favoring high (1st quartile) values for Market Beta and low (4th quartile) values for Market Capitalization and Dividend Yield might indicate a speculative streak.

Balanced Accounts Suffered During 2022

When yields go up, bond prices go down, that is what happened during 2022. The Bloomberg Aggregate Index lost 13% for the year, the worst calendar year on record. Combined with the S&P 500 losing over 18% during 2022, a 60/40 combination lost about 16% for the year, the third worst calendar year over the last 75 years. Only 2008 (-20%) and 1974 (-17%) were worse for a 60% equity/40% bond allocation.

The good news is that over the last five years (ending 12-31-22), large stocks (S&P 500) have still returned 9.4% annually on average and small-cap equities have earned a respectable 4.1%. The bad news is that international companies (MSCI EAFE) have only returned 1.5% annually and bonds have not made any money at all for five years now on average. Regarding bonds however, specifically high quality bonds, note that the starting yields typically have much predictive power over the intermediate future years, now with a starting yield of 4.7% (Bloomberg Aggregate).

Also worth noting, in 2022 (shown in the below table), international stocks held up slightly better than in the U.S. The MSCI EAFE outperformed the S&P 500 for the first time since 2017 (2022 unhedged return was -14.5%, hurt by the strong U.S. Dollar by about 7.5% each in 2022 and 2021).

Another streak was broken too, large value outperformed large growth for the first time since 2016. During 2022 outperforming sectors in the S&P 500 included Energy (+65.7%), Utilities (+1.6%), and Staples (-0.6%); while underperformers were the growth sectors Communications Services (-39.9%), Consumer Discretionary (-37.0%), and Info Tech (-28.2%).

As shown above, in major indices there was nowhere to hide during 2022. Nevertheless, and worth mentioning again, the future looks much better with starting high yields now. The yield on the Bloomberg High Yield Index (junk bonds) is fairly

Bonds Have Some Yield Now

There are signs that inflation is coming down somewhat, but longer term interest rates could continue to go up while the Fed tries to slow down increasing prices. The experts now seem to believe the Fed will raise short rates to about 5% over the next quarter or so while they try to get the PCE deflators down much closer to 2%. The recent readings were 5.5% for headline and 4.7% for core PCE, which is helped by oil prices coming down to $80 from over $120. The yield curve is not curved much at all; in fact, it is inverted, which often indicates an upcoming slowdown in the economy. The Institute for Supply Management (ISM) reported both manufacturing and services below 50 (December 2022) indicating more "real time" data indicating contractions.

Looking at overall data in the U.S., the economy had a good Q3 with real growth of 3.2% (Q4 is estimated positive 2% to 3% over inflation); unemployment is still low at 3.5% and still many more openings than people looking for jobs. The Job Openings and Labor Turnover Survey (JOLTS) had a recent reading of 1.7 job openings per job seeker, which is high by historical standards (it was under 1.3 before the pandemic slowdown in early 2020 and about 1.1 in late 1999 before the equity downturn back then for example of high ratios). There are still nearly $10.5 million job openings in the U.S., allowing wage growth to stay fairly high (5.8%, November 2022).

Most Recent U.S. Economic Data:

U.S. GDP +3.2% (qtr), +1.9% (yr) Sep '22

U.S. PCE deflator +5.5%, Nov '22 (headline)

U.S. Inflation +7.1%, Nov '22 (CPI-U headline)

U.S. Unemployment 3.5%, Dec '22

U.S. Fed Funds 4.38%, Dec '22 (4.25%-4.50%)

As discussed, looking back we could say that a year or so ago the U.S. large-cap stock market was overvalued and bond yields were abnormally low. Now after the terrible 2022, valuations are more reasonable in equities and bonds have some yield now; while the markets contend with the uncertainty of inflation, the Fed, GDP, and corporate earnings. With that said, we will remind investors who have longer time horizons that they are best served sticking with their financial plans and their investments during these more volatile times.

RJCS has placed the Ancora Thelen Small-Mid Cap strategy on Research Watchlist due to subpar relative performance.

The Ancora/Thelen Small-Mid Cap Equity team seeks to own undervalued stocks of fundamentally sound companies in the market capitalization range of $100 million to $10 billion. Within that universe, they construct a portfolio with three unique buckets of companies: franchise (high ROI companies that are temporarily mispriced), underfollowed (low sell-side analyst coverage), and special situations (spinouts, re-organizations, changes in capital structure, etc.). The team firmly believes this bucketed approach can generate alpha over time.

Atlanta's Small- to Mid-cap equity objective is closed for new business due to capacity constraints. Deposits to existing accounts are no longer accepted.

Chip Reed and Atlanta's Small- to Mid-cap team seek high-quality smaller companies at reasonable valuations, just as they do with their pure small-cap discipline. Atlanta Capital's core equity team invests in companies in sound financial condition whose prices are below fair value at the time of purchase. The team seeks out innovative companies with high barriers to entry and focuses on consistent earnings and low debt.

The team believes that their deep fundamental research will provide the ability to construct portfolios that may outperform their peers and the benchmark over a full market cycle.

The strategy's primary research screen uses an investment universe composed of the 500 largest U.S. stocks by market capitalization. The screen utilizes quality (60% weight) and value factors (40% weight) that the team believes are most important to the investment philosophy to generate an alpha score for each stock in the universe.

*Note that the performance figures shown from 7/1/07 to 7/1/21 are comprised of accounts managed by BlackRock. Starting 7/1/21, the performance figures are comprised of accounts managed by Raymond James, based on non-discretionary models that are delivered by BlackRock to Raymond James. Raymond James is responsible for ensuring that accounts included in the composite from 7/1/21 and on are representative of accounts contained in the entire composite, and do not include any restricted accounts or accounts that materially deviate from the models provided by BlackRock affecting the composite performance. While composite returns are broadly representative of the performance of accounts participating in the strategy, it is important to note the returns are not necessarily representative of any individual client account due to the potential for different portfolio holdings across accounts.

The International Growth objective seeks to provide long-term growth of capital by investing in companies in Europe and the Pacific Basin. The investment process begins with in-depth, bottom-up, fundamental research conducted by a large, experienced global team of analysts through visits to companies, their competitors, suppliers and other relevant parties. This high-quality in-house research forms the basis for identifying companies with sound industry positions and promising future prospects. Capital's portfolios are built from a natural outgrowth of fundamental research and bottom-up stock selection, in which portfolio managers and analysts have the highest convictions. Portfolio diversification comes from this process. All decisions are made within the guidelines of a portfolio's objective. Each portfolio manager is encouraged to pursue the portfolio's objective following his or her individual approach and without trying to reflect an index.

The Capital Wealth Planning, LLC ("CWP") Enhanced Dividend Income strategy ("EDI") is a covered call option strategy and requires investors to sign an Option Agreement and Suitability Form and obtain Option Strategy Level 1 approval.

Attempting to achieve a higher yield, CWP constructs portfolios of mega-cap, high quality, blue chip stocks that are diversified across sectors while tactically selling short term call options to generate additional income. Through implementation of a covered call strategy, CWP believes that it can reduce portfolio volatility while generating a modest but consistent income stream across various markets.

The Chartwell's Small Mid Cap Value Equity investment team believes a company's valuation relative to its history is a more important indicator of potential than its valuation relative to the market. Company performance and fundamentals tend to vary around a central tendency, which reflects the basic economics of its business and its industry, not that of the market. Reversion to this mean is likely to occur; therefore, cycles in this valuation framework are important indicators of potential.

Jeff Hakala and his team of analysts utilize a custom profitability metric and proprietary quantitative screen to narrow investment candidates based on the maximum rate they believe each company can grow without accessing capital markets for funding. The investment team seeks consistently high cash returns on net operating assets, strong free cash generation, and robust balance sheets. The bottom up portfolio construction process leads to a benchmark agnostic portfolio that can hold a significant allocation to cash over longer time periods and is a reflection of the team's perceived investment opportunity set. The advisory fee will be assessed to the cash position and this strategy may not be appropriate for those clients who wish to be fully invested in the market. See Current Style Allocation for current cash positioning. Additional information regarding the investment philosophy is available from your financial advisor via the Clarkston Founders (Mid-cap) Factsheet.

The Appreciation strategy focuses on capital appreciation through a core portfolio that has the flexibility to select stocks exhibiting growth or value characteristics.

As part of the initial stages of the investment process, the team utilizes a proprietary quantitative screening process that seeks to identify attractive areas of the market while narrowing the potential investment universe. The team then utilizes a combination of bottom-up stock selection along with a top-down thematic approach in an attempt to identify inefficiently priced companies with strong fundamentals, strong management, and dominant positions within their respective industry.

The ClearBridge Dividend Strategy seeks dividend income, growth of dividend income, and long-term capital appreciation to construct portfolios with an attractive dividend yield.

As part of the initial process, the team employs a quantitative screening process that attempts to filter companies by focusing on sales growth, margins, asset turnover, credit statistics, dividend yield, and a history of or potential for dividend growth. The team then utilizes a bottom-up stock selection approach in an attempt to identify dividend paying securities with strong balance sheets trading at attractive prices with dominant positions in their respective industry.

RJCS has placed the ClearBridge Investments Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy on the Research Watchlist due to subpar relative performance.

The Multi-cap Growth team seek companies whose stocks have the potential for rapid earnings growth and/or cash flow growth. This concentrated multi-capitalization discipline does not force a sell decision based upon company size and allows for longer holding periods, which may allow returns to be compounded. The intense bottom-up investment process seeks to identify inefficiently priced companies with strong fundamentals, strong management, and dominant positions in niche markets and/or goods or services in high demand by the consumer.

Guy Pope leads this strategy with a unique philosophy - that investor pessimism is an investor's ally and can be a great source of alpha. As a result, the process is built around executing on the philosophy and exploiting this core belief. The process begins with a proprietary investment screen to identify stocks that have fallen out of favor and are trading towards their 52-week lows. A secondary screen identifies if these securities are trading below their long-term averages. The resulting output is a list of securities that is then assessed by the team in an effort to determine whether the depreciated stock price is being caused by transitory factors or negative secular headwinds. Based on that assessment, stocks are chosen for rigorous bottom-up research, including but not limited to: fundamental and quantitative research, management on-site visits, and utilization of industry experts and Wall Street research.

Eagle Mid-cap Growth Equity Strategy is closed to new investors.

Eagle's Mid-cap Growth Equity program employs a thorough bottom-up stock selection to identify rapidly growing mid-cap companies that are reasonably priced. Many of these companies are selling innovative goods and services that are transforming the way people live and work, and are found in a wide range of industries. Most stocks are purchased at less than $12 billion in market-cap. When combined with other RJCS smaller-cap managers, it is best paired with managers with value biases.

The Eagle Municipal Strategic Income Portfolio is a risk-focused investment program designed to seek stable and growing income as well as the potential for capital appreciation. The portfolio attempts to find and balance higher-yielding equity and tax-exempt fixed-income securities in an actively managed account. We anticipate the long-term allocation mix will approximate a 50-50 blend of stocks and bonds; however, allocations for either asset class may range from 35% to 65%. Typically, the cash level in the portfolio will not exceed 30%.

The Eagle Small-cap Growth strategy will no longer accept new accounts due to capacity constraints. Existing clients may continue to deposit and the Eagle small-cap Growth strategy will remain open.

The Small-cap Growth team adheres to a bottom-up stock selection philosophy and believes that smaller companies with unique business concepts or niche products may be poised for growth while remaining reasonable priced. The team generates investment ideas from many sources, including proprietary research, recommendation of colleagues, third-party research and publications. Analysts favor companies with high growth and positive catalysts that might lead to even more growth, looking for companies with what they believe are reasonable valuations.

The SMID-cap team seeks to invest in high-quality small to mid-cap companies at a discount to what it perceives as fair market value. Using a consistent and repeatable investment process, the team creates an attractive risk profile designed to reduce some of the volatility inherent in these asset classes by focusing on defensive business models. The team believes that market fluctuations allow for opportunistic entry points, and a strict sell discipline allows the potential to capture returns while mitigating risk. The SMID Select strategy is a more concentrated version of the team's SMID-cap strategy.

The Eagle Strategic Income Portfolio is a risk-focused investment program designed to seek stable and growing income as well as the potential for capital appreciation. The portfolio attempts to find and balance higher-yielding equity and fixed-income securities in an actively managed account. We anticipate the long-term allocation mix will approximate a 50-50 blend of stocks and bonds; however, allocations for either asset class may range from 35% to 65%. Typically, the cash level in the portfolio will not exceed 30%.

*For accounts under $250,000, AMS will hold ETFs for the fixed income portion.

The Edge investment team believes that companies that pay dividends are better stewards of capital and that management teams of dividend paying companies are less likely to engage in activities that are not accretive. The Small Mid-cap Dividend Income strategy seeks to invest in companies that have the commitment and capacity to pay dividends, can consistently grow dividends over time, and demonstrate a commitment to shareholders.

Dividends are not guaranteed and a company's future ability to pay dividends may be limited.

Andrew Bruner and team invest with a conservative approach in an attempt to outperform the overall market. They seek out-of-favor companies that have promising growth prospects, emphasizing quality of earnings and high return on capital and equity. The team believes the key to long-term investment success is to avoid significant losses through a flexible framework of investing in high-quality, well-managed companies using a value-oriented approach. The philosophy seeks to unearth attractively priced, well-managed and structurally sound companies while avoiding those that look inexpensive relative to their historical records but are actually in long-term structural decline ("value traps").

The influence of behavioral investing thought-leaders such as Nobel Prize winners Dr. Daniel Kahneman and Dr. Richard Thaler, as well as current CIO Dr. Russell Fuller, directly shape the strategic direction for Fuller & Thaler - further into the understanding of behavioral investing, and specifically, how to capitalize on it. The overarching philosophy points to efficient markets in the long-term, but inefficient markets in the short-term, as a result of human behavior. Thus, the Small-cap Value product, led by David Potter, seeks to exploit these inefficiencies and capitalize on over-reactions, market biases, and human emotions.

The GQG US Equity team seeks consistent, long-term outperformance while also aiming to limit downside risk. The team has developed an investment approach designed to achieve their goals based around a concept they call Forward-Looking Quality. The concept ignores the traditional investment speak of growth and value and instead focuses on investing in companies that they believe are going to be successful over the next five years and beyond.

The team looks at a narrow range of stocks with a deep fundamental lens that typically takes a year to six months to analyze a company. Once invested, the team usually hold these companies over a longer than average investment horizon with the expectation to provide better risk adjusted returns.

Through bottom-up systematic research and the daily screening of company fundamentals across more than 1,200 stocks, the Global Dividend strategy seeks to isolate stock selection as the primary source of value. While differences in local accounting standards make cross-border company comparisons difficult, the firm's research shows that comparing the rate of change in company fundamentals within a global sector can add value. The team understands that markets are not always rational, so its model dynamically adjusts the factor weights as each factor's relevance in a given economic environment changes. Yet prior to implementation, the portfolio management team discusses portfolio recommendations to ensure the model output is consistent and economically relevant.

GW&K's small-cap discipline is closed to new investors. RJCS offers the GW&K team's small- to mid-cap portfolio as an alternative.

The strategy focuses on small-cap companies that the team believes may have a dominant or strengthening position within a niche market that exhibits sustainable growth characteristics. Research analysts combine an awareness of economic and industry conditions with in-depth analysis of company financials. Scrutiny is placed on a company's earnings, growth, profit margins, balance sheet trends and product strength relative to its industry. After the initial screen, the team conducts analysis on return on equity and its components. The portfolio is designed to be diversified in an attempt to minimize risk while providing long-term return potential.

Hamlin's Equity Income team has a dividend-focused philosophy at the backbone of their investment process. The team believes that a healthy and consistent dividend policy endorses historic accounting statements, acts as an effective governor on capital allocation, and can help to smooth volatile performance over longer periods of time. The universe of investments is narrowed first by relative dividend yield, with a subsequent focus on companies with strong balance sheets and high-quality earnings. Deep fundamental research helps to analyze the true quality of earnings and the ability to cover future dividend payments.

Real estate investment trusts (REITs) have made it possible for individual investors to participate in real estate investments, which traditionally see their total rate of return come from income and capital appreciation potential of publicly traded investment vehicles. Invesco seeks to maximize consistency of investment returns. Real estate, as an asset class, can increase diversification as a component of a well-allocated portfolio. The strategy employs a disciplined, relative value-oriented strategy for stock selection, with a bottom-up investment approach. It focuses on equity REITs, the segment of the publicly traded REIT market that has historically provided the highest risk-adjusted returns over the long term. This includes approximately 150 securities. The team designs portfolios of attractively priced, high-quality companies in an attempt to reduce risk.

The John Hancock US Small-cap Core is a diversified strategy that focuses on niche companies with improving profitability, at attractive valuations. With the help of fundamental research, the long-tenured investment team identifies companies with cash flow and earnings growth visibility, manageable risks, and above average returns on capital. Portfolio stocks must have a minimum of 12% per annum target return for three years, a positive reward/risk, and undergo a thorough team discussion of a business model checklist and source of mispricing. The strategy aims to outperform in both advancing and declining markets, but may struggle in narrow, speculative, and high momentum markets.

The MFS Large-cap Value strategy is managed using a traditional value style that relies on bottom-up, fundamental research. Tenured portfolio manager Nevin Chitkara follows a disciplined and conservative approach to investing with a consistent focus on value - the security must be inexpensive versus the market, peers, and its industry. The investment team targets companies possessing outstanding management teams, strong balance sheets, and the ability to generate strong free cash flow to support earnings. The portfolio managers rely heavily on the pooled research analysts within the global sector teams, working with the analysts to assess the characteristics of the company, future expectations, the consistency of the company's business and results over time, and its valuation parameters.

This growth-at-a-reasonable-price manager seeks out strong market leaders outside of the U.S., regardless of location and size. The diversified international strategy can buy small, mid, and large-cap companies as they find opportunities abroad. By applying in-depth fundamental analysis, this strategy seeks to identify attractive companies with competitive advantages that trade at a discount to the team's assessment of fair values.

The team believes that high quality companies trading at discounted valuations have the potential to outperform their peers with less risk over a full market cycle. The team utilizes a bottom-up international stock selection process, finding companies that are growing, but also have reasonable valuations.

River Road runs a Dividend All-cap Value discipline that seeks dividend paying companies selling at a discount to their perceived absolute value. The team uses a fundamentally driven research process to identify purchase candidates from a multi-cap universe of undervalued or potentially high-yielding equity securities.

Stocks selected for purchase are thought by River Road to be well-managed, financially sound firms with high and growing dividend yields. This strategy also targets companies that they believe are trading at a meaningful discount to their assessed absolute value.

Dividends are not guaranteed and a company's future ability to pay dividends may be limited.

The Schafer Cullen Enhanced Equity Income strategy is a covered call option strategy and requires investors to sign an Option Agreement and Suitability Form and obtain Option Strategy Level 1 approval.

The Schafer Cullen Enhanced Equity Income strategy seeks to identify stocks that are inexpensive on a price to earnings and/or price to book basis with a catalyst that they believe should result in stronger than average earnings growth over 3 to 5 years. The investment team favors companies that can sustain their current dividend payment and increase dividends over time. For a stock to be available for inclusion within the portfolio, it must pay a minimum 3% dividend with substantial option volume and liquidity. Through the implementation of a dynamic covered call overlay, the Schafer Cullen investment team believes they can mitigate risk while attempting to generate a consistent income stream across various market environments.

[^]While composite returns are broadly representative of the performance of accounts participating in the discipline, it is important to note the returns are not necessarily representative of any individual client account due to the potential for different portfolio holdings across accounts. Stock purchase and sales are generally coupled with option transactions and therefore will vary between client accounts based on the timing of account opening. Different stocks may be considered for purchase across individual client accounts due to current option pricing based on intrinsic and time value at the time of the transaction. These accounts will have significant exposure to short term capital gains tax and any concerns should be addressed with an appropriate tax professional.

RJCS has placed the Sterling Equity Income Strategy on the Research Watchlist due to personnel changes.

The Sterling Capital Equity Income strategy seeks to invest in U.S. listed stocks above $4 billion in market capitalization being quantitatively screened by the analysts and the portfolio manager for the dividend criteria of a minimum yield above the S&P 500 Index and history of raising the dividend three consecutive years or six of the last ten years. The investment team focuses on achieving the highest risk adjusted total return and dividend growth, not exclusively on the highest yielding stocks. This approach may allow the portfolio to generate superior total returns, but lower total dividend yield than competitors.

The strategy seeks long-term capital appreciation by looking for companies at historically low valuations that have what they feel may be catalysts for appreciation. It is the team's belief that buying undervalued stocks with a catalyst or competitive advantage will lead to greater performance than the peers and benchmark over a full market cycle. The team calls this philosophy the "search for value poised for growth".

Experienced portfolio manager Diane Jaffee is a significant factor in finding the broad definition of opportunistic value that the strategy permits.

The Wasatch Small-cap Value Equity strategy is an extension of Wasatch's growth approach. Through a fundamental, bottom-up research approach, the investment team seeks to capitalize on the inefficiencies of markets created when growth stocks become value stocks. The Wasatch Small-cap Value strategy seeks to capture earnings growth and multiple expansion from growing smaller companies. Managed by long tenured portfolio manager Jim Larkins, the Small-cap Value Equity investment team seeks durable growth from high quality, well-managed companies that are temporarily mispriced, but have potential catalysts to generate sustainable competitive earnings over a 3-5 years investment horizon.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. All investments are subject to risk and you may incur a profit or a loss. Asset allocation and diversification do not ensure a profit or protect against a loss. Indices are not available for direct investment. Any investor who attempts to mimic the performance of an index would incur fees and expenses which would reduce returns.

RJCS and UMA Manager Disclosures

All expressions of opinion in the foregoing reflect the judgment of the Asset Management Services (“AMS”) division of Raymond James & Associates, Inc. (“Raymond James”) and/or the manager and are subject to change without notice. Information in this report has been obtained from sources considered reliable, but we do not guarantee its accuracy, completeness or timeliness. Third party data providers make no warranties or representations as to the accuracy, completeness or timeliness of the data they provide. Content provided herein is for informational purposes only and should not be used or construed as investment advice or a recommendation regarding the purchase or sale of any security outside of a Raymond James Consulting Services (“RJCS”) managed account. This should not be considered forward looking, and does not guarantee the future performance of any investment.

Overview of RJCS Performance:

Raymond James does not claim compliance with the CFA Institute's Global Investment Performance Standards (“GIPS”) and composite performance presented herein is not GIPS verified.

Performance is presented using the time-weighted return methodology, which attempts to smooth out the impact of contributions and/or withdrawals (or “cash flows”), if any, from the underlying accounts invested in the discipline when calculating the returns. Time-weighted returns are presented for the purpose of standardizing performance for comparison to the benchmark index, which does not experience such cash flows and cannot be invested in directly. Alternatively, asset-weighted returns (also known as dollar- or money-weighted returns) reflect the timing and size of cash flows on an account's performance, and while it is a more accurate representation of true account performance of an account when these cash flows occur, it limits the usefulness of comparing how investments are performing in relation to the index since these indices do not experience such flows. That is, contributions to or withdrawals from an account are invested in or redeemed from the portfolio as they occur and therefore asset-weighted returns will impact the performance of an account based on the prices of the securities when these flows occur.

Performance includes reinvestment of all income, dividends and capital gains, and includes cash in the total returns. Dividends are not guaranteed and a company's future ability to pay dividends may be limited. When accounts open in RJCS, performance is based on a size-weighted (asset-weighted) composite of all fully discretionary, wrap-fee accounts managed under the manager's investment discipline in the RJCS program. RJCS composite performance begins when the manager has three or more accounts opened and invested in the RJCS program for more than one quarter. Canceled accounts remain in the composite through their last full quarter. RJCS composite performance is compiled from sources believed to be reliable; however, performance has not been independently verified by a third party auditor. Reported composite performance was not duplicated by any individual account, resulting in a different return for any one particular investor.

Certain manager disciplines available through the RJCS program includes performance that may be comprised in part or wholly from gross returns supplied by the manager to Raymond James. These returns, which reflect the historical returns achieved by the manager's non-RJCS clients, are “linked” to RJCS composite returns to display historical returns that cover periods prior to the manager's investment discipline(s) being available through the RJCS program. This linking process is intended to provide a more comprehensive historical view of the performance of the particular discipline. Raymond James believes linking these returns is broadly representative of the returns that would have been reasonably achieved by an investor over the time periods referenced herein, although no one particular individual RJCS program client achieved such returns. When linking occurs, the trailing and calendar year returns and the corresponding standard deviation and Modern Portfolio Theory Stats have been shaded in gray to identify the periods reflecting manager-supplied returns. In addition, the RJCS composite inception date, and the manager's composite inception date if less than 10 years, are referenced to assist you and your financial advisor in evaluating which periods include, and for how long, returns that pre-date the manager's discipline being available through the RJCS program. Raymond James monitors performance achieved by its RJCS program clients and compares them to returns these managers have reported to data providers such as Morningstar. If Raymond James determines that its RJCS program client's performance and the returns reported to third party data providers are materially different for an extended period of time and no longer considered to be representative of a RJCS program client's experience, it will no longer present linked returns in the future. Linking generally occurs when the RJCS composite inception date is less than 10 years through the noted performance period end date. Manager-supplied performance, while believed to be reliable, has not been independently verified and therefore its accuracy cannot be guaranteed.

Gross performance does not show the impact of investment advisory and management fees and expenses, which are incurred in an RJCS program account, and will have an effect that could be significant on the returns you may individually experience. Similarly, returns of the benchmark indices shown, which are not available for direct investment, would also be reduced by the deduction of fees and expenses were an index available for direct investment. The gross performance displayed is historical and is comprised of client accounts invested in the applicable discipline and represents the actual performance experience of these clients.

Net performance reflects the deduction of the maximum applicable RJCS program fee from the gross performance (including any third-party manager linked gross performance) to illustrate the maximum performance impact of the RJCS program advisory fees. Individual clients may be assessed a lower fee than the maximum based on the size of their advisory relationship with Raymond James and pricing arrangements made with their financial advisor. Although an investor may experience a lower fee impact on their individual performance based on the asset value of their relationship and personalized pricing arrangement (if any) with their financial advisor, the maximum fee net returns are shown to illustrate the effect that the maximum fees and expenses that could be charged would have on the performance shown. The maximum fee for Equity, Balanced and ETF disciplines is generally 2.60% and 2.75% for a certain limited number non-model delivery disciplines, 2.55% for Fixed Income disciplines, and 2.45% for Laddered Bonds and Short Term Conservative Fixed Income disciplines. Composite performance is calculated on a monthly basis, and these monthly returns are then linked to calculate the periodic trailing and calendar year returns. The net fee is calculated by dividing the maximum annual program fee by 12 to reflect the monthly fee rate and the result is then deducted from the monthly gross return. Performance returns presented herein reflect the effects of compounding, where each periodic return is impacted by the prior period's return so that gains or losses earlier in the period will compound over the entire period. For example, a $100,000 account that experienced a 5% return during the period would have an ending value of $105,000, and this end of period value will be the beginning value for the next performance period instead of using the original $100,000 investment. For clarity, the impact of compounding on the net fee returns will result in a net return for the period being higher or lower than the maximum RJCS program fee noted above. For complete information regarding the fee schedule and breakpoints please see the applicable advisory agreement and the Raymond James Wrap Fee Program Brochure.

Some managers may invest in closed-end funds and/or exchange traded funds and therefore there are additional expenses embedded in these funds that are in addition to the RJCS program fees assessed by Raymond James; however, the performance shown reflects the effects of these additional expenses.

Performance Dispersion

AMS Manager Research monitors how RJCS accounts are performing relative to the managers' institutional or retail managed accounts and/or pooled vehicles, making sure any differences in performance are explainable. Also, we monitor the performance differences within the AMS accounts held here at the firm. In RJCS program accounts, no one account has performed like the size-weighted composite average that AMS presents (approximately half of the accounts are higher than the average, half are lower). This is called performance dispersion. Most accounts perform relatively close to the composite average, but some accounts do indeed perform worse than the average, often during the first year or two or during periods when cash flows occur (that is, additions to or withdrawals from the account), particularly when these flows occur when markets are experiencing heightened volatility. The following factors may explain why an account may have performed significantly different than the composite over a relatively short time period. In general, performance dispersion is not a problem after accounts have been invested and traded for more than a couple years:

- 1) The main cause of dispersion is different securities or weightings held:
 - Some managers have "holds," not just "buys" and "sells," which causes different holdings. "Holds" are normally associated with price-conscious managers. For example, value managers often use strict buy and sell target prices.
 - Liquidity & percent ownership restrictions, when small- and mid-cap managers elect to buy new ideas for the new RJCS accounts while holding on to stocks for old accounts.
 - Client cash flows may cause re-balancing, which may cause different weightings in securities or funds, or even different stocks held between accounts.
- 2) Specific to RJCS, tax-advantages of individual accounts may cause dispersion:
 - Managers let "winners" run and may not buy the large percent of a position in "new" accounts, which causes these to perform differently than the "old" accounts.
 - The attention to long-term holding periods may cause managers to hang on to a position for old accounts while buying a different position for new accounts.
- 3) Other causes of performance dispersion:
 - Temporary cash drag - Initial investment may take up to five or six months for an RJCS account.
 - Volatility - Higher risk asset classes such as small-cap and international will cause more dispersion by nature.

Trade Discretion – Model Delivery versus Separately Managed Accounts

Most managers provide AMS model portfolios that comprise securities recommended by the manager for designated investment disciplines available in the RJCS program, and the managers will thereafter will communicate periodic updates to AMS as changes occur to their model portfolios. Should a client select a model portfolio investment discipline, under the RJCS program agreement the client delegates discretionary trading authority to AMS to effect purchases and sales of model portfolio securities. For all other investment disciplines not classified as model portfolios (referred to as separately managed accounts, or "SMAs"), the manager will exercise discretionary trading authority for SMA disciplines. Unlike SMA disciplines, under the model delivery arrangement, managers provide AMS with a model portfolio and are generally not involved in organizing or effecting portfolio trades. AMS retains trading authority rather than the manager, and therefore, trades are generally expected to be executed through Raymond James. In addition, Raymond James, rather than the manager, is responsible for proxy voting (unless this authority has been retained by the client), as well as submitting instructions related to corporate actions such as reorganizations and tender offers. There may be differences in trade rotation, timing, and other factors, which could cause performance dispersion where a manager has trade discretion over RJCS program client accounts versus AMS.

SMA Managers that Trade Away from Raymond James:

- SMA Managers that specialize in fixed income, international, small-cap or exchange-traded product disciplines will be more likely to trade away from Raymond James due to market dynamics, liquidity, exchange availability, institution specialty or other factors they consider relevant in satisfying their best execution obligations to clients.
- In the event an SMA Manager elects to utilize brokers or dealers other than Raymond James to affect a block order in a recommended security ("trade away" from Raymond James), brokerage commissions and other charges are generally assessed to the block order by the executing broker or dealer. In the event an SMA Manager elects to trade away from Raymond James, those transactions are generally traded from broker to broker and are frequently cleared without any commissions. However, you should be aware that, in many cases, the executing broker or dealer may assess a commission or other charges to the block order and such costs will be in addition to the RJCS program wrap fee assessed by Raymond James. As a result, the net purchase or sale price reflected on trade confirmations and brokerage statements provided by Raymond James on these trades may embed brokerage commissions or dealer markups or markdowns charged by the executing broker, that are not separately itemized by Raymond James. For example, a block order of security XYZ purchased for $10 that is assessed a commission of $.01 (1 cent) per share by the executing broker would show a purchase price in the client's account of $10.01.
- Raymond James will identify individual equity trades that have been traded away by the SMA Manager on the client's trade confirmation and will report the aggregate cost, if any, to clients in their brokerage statement on a quarterly basis. Additional information regarding the frequency and average costs related to trading away is available on Raymond James public website (see "Important Information Regarding Investment Manager Trading Practices" at www.raymondjames.com/disclosure-trading-practices, or a copy may be obtained from your financial advisor).
- The "market" for fixed income securities is largely comprised of dealers that trade over the counter amongst themselves and very few bonds trade on organized exchanges. Due to the structure of the fixed income market, the participating dealers do not currently, nor are they required to, disclose the markup, markdown or spread at which purchases and sales are affected. As a result, SMA Managers that trade fixed income securities away from Raymond James are unable to provide this information to Raymond James, and Raymond James is currently unable to present such information to clients. Please contact your financial advisor for more information.

Portfolio Risks:

- Fixed-income securities (or “bonds”) are exposed to various risks including but not limited to credit (risk of default or principal and interest payments), market and liquidity, interest rate, reinvestment, legislative (changes to the tax code), and call risks.
- There is an inverse relationship between interest rate movements and fixed income prices. Generally, when interest rates rise, fixed income prices fall and when interest rates fall, fixed income prices generally rise. Short-term bonds with maturities of three years or less will generally have lower yields than long term bonds which are more susceptible to interest rate risk.
- Callable bonds generally offer a higher yield than non-callable bonds as they have the option to call the bonds and repay the principal prior to maturity. Issuers will generally be inclined to initiate a call if interest rates have declined since the bonds were first issued, as they can reissue new bonds at a lower interest rate. Investors will then be positioned to reinvest return on principal in a declining interest rate environment, thus receiving a lower yield going forward.
- Credit risk includes the creditworthiness of the issuer or insurer, and possible prepayments of principal and interest. Bonds may receive credit ratings from a number of agencies however, Standard & Poor’s ratings range from AAA to D, with any bond with a rating BBB or higher considered to be investment grade. Securities rated below investment grade generally provide a higher yield but carry a higher risk of default which could result on a loss of the principal investment. Because high-yield bonds have greater credit and default risk they may not be appropriate for all investors. While bonds rated investment grade have lower credit and default risk, there is no guarantee securing the principal investment.
- Investors should consider the Yield to Worst (YTW) of a bond or bond portfolio versus the Current Yield as the YTW is the lowest potential yield that that can be received without default. YTW takes into account any bonds that could be called prior to maturity.
- Securities issued by certain U.S. government-related organizations are not backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government and therefore no assurance can be given that the U.S. government will provide financial backing should an issue default.
- Please note these portfolios may be subject to state, local, and/or alternative minimum taxes. You should discuss any tax or legal matters with the appropriate professional.
- Investing in emerging markets can be riskier than investing in well-established foreign markets. Emerging and developing markets may be less liquid and more volatile because they tend to reflect economic structures that are generally less diverse and mature and political systems that may be less stable than those in more developed countries.
- Investing in small-cap stocks generally involves greater risks, and therefore, may not be appropriate for every investor. Stocks of smaller or newer or mid-sized companies may be more likely to realize more substantial growth as well as suffer more significant losses than larger or more established issuers.
- Commodities trading is generally considered speculative because of the significant potential for investment loss. Among the factors that could affect the value of the fund’s investments in commodities are cyclical economic conditions, sudden political events, changes in sectors affecting a particular industry or commodity, and adverse international monetary policies. Markets for precious metals and other commodities are likely to be volatile and there may be sharp price fluctuations even during periods when prices overall are rising.
- Specific sector investing such as real estate can be subject to different and greater risks than more diversified investments. Declines in the value of real estate, economic conditions, property taxes, tax laws and interest rates all present potential risks to real estate investments.
- Some accounts may invest in Master Limited Partnership (“MLP”) units, which may result in unique tax treatment. MLPs may not be appropriate for ERISA or IRA accounts, and cause K-1 tax treatment. Please consult your tax adviser for additional information regarding the tax implications associated with MLP investments.
- Alternative investments are generally considered speculative in nature and may involve a high degree of risk, particularly if concentrating investments in one or few alternative investments. These risks are potentially greater and substantially different than those associated with traditional equity or fixed income investments. The investment strategies used by certain Funds may require a substantial use of leverage. The investment strategies employed, and associated risks are more fully disclosed in each Fund’s prospectus, which is available from your financial advisor.
- Changes in the value of a hedging instrument may not match those of the investment being hedged.
- These portfolios may be subject to international, small-cap and sector-focus exposures as well. Accounts may have over weighted sector and issuer positions and may result in greater volatility and risk.
- Companies in the technology industry are subject to fierce competition, and their products and services may be subject to rapid obsolescence
- Options involve unique and potentially significant risks and are not suitable for everyone. Option trading can be speculative in nature and may carry substantial risk of loss. Raymond James limits the use of options to hedging strategies in managed accounts (e.g., covered calls and put purchases with limited downside risk). Prior to accepting an account for options activity investors must be given the Option Disclosure Document titled “Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options” and must complete and submit an Option Agreement and Suitability Form for Raymond James review and approval prior to transacting option trades. Clients may only employ those strategies that have been approved. These documents are available from your financial advisor.
- Preferred stock values are inversely related to interest rates. While typically entitled to higher priority than common stockholders, preferred stockholders are not guaranteed to receive dividends. Preferred stock carries a lower priority than debt securities in the event of the issuer’s bankruptcy. Some preferred stocks may include the option of being convertible to common stock, and conversion may be forced by the issuer.
- Specific sector investing such as real estate can be subject to different and greater risks than more diversified investments. Declines in the value of real estate, economic conditions, property taxes, tax laws and interest rates all present potential risks to real estate investments. In a rising interest rate environment REITs (real estate investment trusts) may experience an increase in rent rates or mortgage rates or may experience higher acquisition costs.
- A REIT is a company that owns – and typically operates – income-producing real estate or real estate-related assets. The income-producing real estate assets owned by a REIT may include real assets (e.g., apartment or commercial buildings) or real estate-related debt (e.g., mortgages). Most REITs specialize in a single type of real estate.
- REITs may also provide debt and equity financing directly or indirectly through the acquisition of mortgage-backed securities. These REITs tend to be more leveraged than property based REITs and may manage interest rate and credit risks through the use of derivatives and other hedging techniques. There are additional risks inherent to these strategies and risk factors can be reviewed in greater detail via a REITs Form 10-K.
- REIT dividends generally do not receive the favorable tax treatment which is accorded to qualified dividends. Qualified dividends that meet certain criteria may be taxed at the lower long-term capital gains tax rate rather than the higher ordinary income tax rate. REIT dividends distributions are generally allocated to ordinary income, capital gains, and return of capital for tax purposes each of which may be taxed at a different rate. Please consult your tax advisor regarding your individual tax circumstances.
- Investors should be aware of conflicts of interests inherent to REITs. They may be managed by their own employees or may hire an external manager oversee their investments and operations. The manager may be paid significant transaction fees by the REIT for services that may not necessarily align with the interests of shareholders such as but not limited to fees based on the amount of property acquisitions and assets under management. In addition, the external manager may manage or be affiliated with other companies that may compete with the REIT in which you are invested or that are paid by the REIT for services provided, such as property management or leasing fees.

- Most ETFs are structured as open-end management investment companies whose investment objective is to achieve a return similar to that of a particular market index. An ETF will invest in either all of the securities or a representative sample of the securities included in the index they track. ETFs may be bought or sold throughout the day in the secondary market but are generally not redeemable by retail investors for the underlying basket of securities they track. Mutual funds are typically actively managed, and as a result, the underlying management fees and operating expenses assessed by the fund companies are generally higher than those for ETFs. Because ETFs have the characteristics of both stocks and mutual funds, it is possible to measure performance in two ways. Because ETFs are traded in the secondary market like stocks, performance can be measured in terms of the market price of the ETF. However, since the underlying value of the ETF is based on the securities held in the fund, like a mutual fund, it also can be measured in terms of the Net Asset Value. Both of these are shown above, with the total returns based on the closing market price of the ETF listed first and NAV performance shown below. We believe that market price performance is more representative of our clients' experiences due to the fact that all transactions conducted for Freedom ETF are done in the secondary market.
- Certain SMA Managers may wish to invest in an affiliated fund of their firm to achieve greater portfolio diversification than would generally be available by purchasing individual securities, particularly fixed income, and international securities. The affiliated mutual fund is available exclusively for investment by SMA clients ("SMA Fund") and neither the SMA Manager nor their affiliate(s) may receive additional compensation as a result of investing in the SMA Fund (other than possibly a small portion of the Fund in their firm's money market fund which charges an expense ratio). In addition, the SMA Manager, or the SMA Fund's affiliated Adviser/Trustee, must waive its management fee, and the SMA Manager/Sponsor must pay or reimburse the SMA Fund for the operating expenses of the SMA Fund, excluding certain extraordinary expenses that may be incurred. These "no load, no fee funds" are typically kept at <50% of the account, and upon termination of an account holding SMA Fund shares, Raymond James will immediately redeem any shares, as these securities may not be held outside of an SMA account.
- Sustainable investing may incorporate criteria beyond traditional financial information into the investment selection process. This could result in investment performance deviating from other investment strategies or broad market benchmarks. Please review any offering or other informational material available for any investment or investment strategy that incorporates sustainable investing criteria and consult your financial professional prior to investing.

Beginning June 30, 2017, the Capital Group Global Growth SMA Composite includes all SMA portfolios applicable to the Global Growth strategy. The ADR discipline attempts to replicate the composite version as closely as possible utilizing a similar investment strategy and process. AMS Due Diligence conducted a comparative study, the result of which determined the institutional discipline did not differ materially from the ADR discipline in that both disciplines have larger market cap profiles with limited use of emerging market holdings. This resulted an acceptable level of overlap of ADRs to foreign ordinary shares and similar performance overtime.

ADR replication of the institutional foreign ordinary share portfolio will deviate in portfolio holdings where an ADR is not available and may experience material performance dispersion from the institutional product. Differences in overlap between the two Capital Group disciplines will generally occur where ADR versions of foreign ordinaries are not available or not considered to have sufficient liquidity. Differences in foreign exchange rates, liquidity, trading expenses, and other factors may also contribute to performance dispersion between the two disciplines. Dispersion will be monitored by Due Diligence on an ongoing basis.

Capital Wealth Planning, LLC

Capital Wealth Planning ("CWP") is a Naples, Florida-based investment manager. For Raymond James Consulting Services ("RJCS") SMA accounts, the firm invests primarily in U.S.-based equities of large companies, and also sells covered call options on these equities. When "writing" or selling calls, if the value of the underlying equity shares falls significantly, the loss from holding the stock will likely outweigh the gain from the option premium received. Also, as an equity holder and selling a covered call, the potential gain from owning the stock is limited to the gain realized if the share price reaches the strike price of the option. At some point after this occurs, the shares are "called away" and then sold for the strike price of the call option. Gains from expiring call options or buying back for less are considered short term for taxes.

Manager supplied composite performance prior to 07/01/18 for Fundamental Global Franchise ADR represents the performance of the Manulife Investment Management institutional version of the discipline that contains foreign ordinary shares (foreign stocks traded on overseas exchanges). The ADR discipline attempts to replicate the institutional version as closely as possible utilizing a similar investment strategy and process. AMS Due Diligence conducted a comparative study, the result of which determined the institutional discipline did not differ materially from the ADR discipline in that both disciplines have larger market cap profiles with limited use of emerging market holdings. This resulted in over 90% overlap of ADRs to foreign ordinary shares and similar performance.

ADR replication of the institutional foreign ordinary share portfolio will deviate in portfolio holdings where an ADR is not available and may experience material performance dispersion from the institutional product. Differences in overlap between the two Manulife disciplines will generally occur where ADR versions of foreign ordinaries are not available or not considered to have sufficient liquidity. Differences in foreign exchange rates, liquidity, trading expenses, and other factors may also contribute to performance dispersion between the two disciplines. Dispersion will be monitored by Due Diligence on an ongoing basis.

The fixed income portion of RiverFront's asset allocation portfolios has historically been comprised of fixed income closed-end funds and ETFs along with individual bond holdings, not just individual bonds. Various RiverFront strategies including the fixed income portion of Freedom UMA may hold just fixed income closed-end funds and/or ETFs, or an individual RiverFront managed fixed income ETF and not hold individual bonds; therefore, there may be dispersion across strategies. There are more fees involved with closed-end funds and ETFs, but the investment process has been consistent therefore performance is representative of RiverFront's investment process.

Shelton Capital Management

Shelton Capital Management ("Shelton") is a San Francisco-based investment manager. For Raymond James Consulting Services ("RJCS") SMA accounts, the firm invests primarily in U.S.-based equities of large companies, and sells covered call options on these equities. When "writing" or selling calls, if the value of the underlying equity shares falls significantly, the loss from holding the stock will likely outweigh the gain from the option premium received. Also, as an equity holder and selling a covered call, the potential gain from owning the stock is limited to the gain realized if the share price reaches the strike price of the option. At some point after this occurs, the shares are "called away" and then sold for the strike price of the call option. Gains from expiring call options or buying back for less are considered short term for taxes.

Risk Statistics Defined

Active Share

Active Share measures the percentage of holdings in a manager's portfolio that differ from its benchmark and is calculated by summing absolute differences of the security weights between the portfolio and the benchmark. Active Share of 100% indicates no portfolio holdings in common with the benchmark, as opposed to zero percent, which indicates portfolio holdings that exactly mirror the benchmark composition. Active Share focuses on stock selection by the manager and the conviction to deviate from the same weightings as the benchmark index.

Conclusion: Active Share can be utilized as an additional analytical tool to help assess the level of active management for the portfolio; with a High Active Share (80-100%) providing an indication for a portfolio which is focused on distinct stock selection, as opposed to Lower Active Share (less than 60%) in which the portfolio leans more towards a larger number of holdings that overlap those in the benchmark index.

R-Squared – The most important statistic!

When evaluating manager performance in comparison to a benchmark, it is imperative to ensure that the benchmark used is appropriate. The most common test for the appropriateness of a benchmark is to examine the correlation between the manager's gross performance and that of the benchmark. Correlation squared (or "R²") is the proportion of the total variation in the manager's performance that is explained by variation in the benchmark performance. A high R² indicates that manager's return is closely correlated to the benchmark and therefore the benchmark is likely an appropriate one for the manager.

Simply put, R² reflects the percentage of a manager's movements that can be explained by movements in its benchmark index. An R² of 1.00 indicates all movements of a manager can be explained by movements in the index. Thus, an S&P 500 Index fund will have an R² very close to 1.00 with the S&P 500 Index. Likewise, an R² measure of 0.35 reveals that only 35% of the manager's movements can be explained by movements in the index. R² is used to determine the significance of a particular Beta. Generally speaking, a higher R² will indicate a more reliable Beta figure. The lower the R² the less relevant the Beta is to a manager's performance.

Conclusion: A high R² is essential when looking at the Beta of a manager. When the R² is high (above 0.65) comparing the manager to the index is like comparing apples to apples. Once the R² slips below 0.65, the Beta has substantially less credibility and is, along with dependent statistics, represented with an "NM" (Not Meaningful).

Alpha

Provided the R² measurement is statistically significant, Alpha is a measure of the difference between a manager's actual gross returns and its expected performance, given its level of relative risk vs its assigned benchmark as measured by Beta. For example, if the market excess return is 2% and the portfolio Beta is 1.1, then the manager would have to have an excess return greater than 2.2% for the manager to have contributed to performance above and beyond the performance of the market. A positive Alpha figure indicates the manager has performed better than its Beta would predict. A negative Alpha indicates the manager performed worse than expected based on its level of risk. Thus, it is possible for a manager to significantly outperform an index and still have a negative Alpha. In general, the higher the Alpha the better.

Conclusion: Alpha measures the performance of a manager compared to an index based on the level of risk taken by the manager due to security selection. A positive Alpha suggests the manager is providing better returns than the market based on the portfolio's risk. Remember that Alpha is based on Beta and that Beta is dependent on R². If the R² is not sufficiently high, the Alpha may not be the best statistical tool for portfolio analysis.

Beta

Provided the R² measurement is statistically significant, Beta is a measure of a fund's sensitivity to market movements. In general, the larger the Beta, the more volatile the historical performance. Using gross performance, Beta compares the manager's excess return (return over Treasury bills) to the benchmark's excess return. By definition the Beta of the index is 1.00. A Beta of 1.10 indicates that a manager has performed 10% better than its benchmark in up markets and 10% worse in down markets. Conversely, a Beta of 0.85 indicates that the manager is expected to perform 15% worse than the market's excess return during up markets and 15% better during down markets. Beta serves as an element of both the Alpha and Information Ratio calculations.

Conclusion: Beta measures a manager's risk compared to a benchmark. Remember, a manager with a low Beta can still be volatile. A low Beta signifies only that the manager's market-relative risk is low. A manager's standard deviation should be used to measure a portfolio's total volatility.

Standard Deviation

Standard Deviation is a statistical measure of portfolio risk. Standard Deviation is equal to the square root of the Variance. It reflects the average deviation of the observations from their sample mean. In the case of portfolio performance, the Standard Deviation describes the average deviation of the portfolio returns from the mean portfolio return over a certain period of time. Standard Deviation measures how wide this range of returns typically is. The wider the typical range of returns, the higher the Standard Deviation of returns, and the higher the portfolio risk. If returns are normally distributed (i.e., has a bell-shaped curve distribution), then approximately 2/3 of the returns would occur within plus or minus one Standard Deviation from the sample mean.

Conclusion: Standard deviation is a statistical measurement that sheds light on historical volatility. For example, a volatile stock will have a high standard deviation while the deviation of a stable blue-chip stock will be lower. A large dispersion tells us how much the return on the fund is deviating from the expected normal returns.

Downside Risk

Downside Risk differentiates between "good" risk (upside volatility) and "bad" risk (downside volatility). Whereas standard deviation treats both upside and downside risk the same, downside risk measures only the standard deviation of returns that are below the target. Returns above the target are assigned a deviation of zero. Both the frequency and magnitude of underperformance affect the amount of downside risk.

Conclusion: Investors, traders and analysts use a variety of technical and fundamental metrics to estimate the likelihood that an investment's value will decline, including historical performance and standard deviation calculations. In general, many investments that have a greater potential for downside risk also have an increased potential for positive rewards. Investors often compare the potential risks associated with a particular investment to its possible rewards. Downside risk is in contrast to upside potential, or the likelihood that a security's value will increase.

Residual Risk

Residual Risk is the unsystematic or firm-specific risk of a portfolio. It is the portion of the total risk of a portfolio that is unique to the portfolio itself and is not related to the benchmark. The Residual Risk in a portfolio can be decreased by including assets that do not have similar unique risk. For example, a company that relies heavily on oil would be negatively impacted by a cut in the supply of oil. However, a company that supplies oil would benefit from a cut in another company's supply of oil. Combining positions in these two companies would help reduce the risk, via diversification, associated with the price of oil. The level of Residual Risk in a portfolio is a reflection of the "bets" which the manager places in a particular asset class or sector.

Conclusion: Residual Risk is a measure of the degree to which the manager's Beta-adjusted gross returns deviate from the benchmark return. If the manager tracks the benchmark exactly, Residual Risk is zero. Otherwise, it is always positive. Very high Residual Risk is eventually reflected in a low R^2 and leads to low confidence that the benchmark is appropriate for the manager.

Information Ratio

Information Ratio is a return per unit of risk measure that compares Alpha and Residual Risk. It is a standardized measure that allows for the direct comparison of managers with different Alpha and Residual Risk characteristics. Because both the numerator and the denominator exclude market effects, we believe the Information Ratio provides the best measure of pure manager skill. In general, the higher the Information Ratio the better.

Conclusion: When evaluating a manager, Information Ratio is an effective tool when comparing managers with different Alpha and Residual Risk characteristics. Information Ratio is a measure that helps to account for the fact that market exposure may vary across managers. Negative Information Ratios are considered not meaningful and are represented with an NM. If the R^2 is not sufficiently high, the Information Ratio may not be the best statistical tool for portfolio analysis.

Sharpe Ratio

Sharpe Ratio is a measure of the risk-adjusted return of a portfolio. The ratio represents the return gained per unit of risk taken. The risk of the portfolio is the Standard Deviation of the portfolio returns. The Sharpe ratio can be used to compare the performance of managers. Two managers with the same excess return for a period but different levels of risk will have Sharpe ratios that reflect the difference in the level of risk. The performance of the manager with the lower Sharpe ratio would be interpreted as exhibiting comparatively more risk for the desired return compared to the other manager. If the two managers had the same level of risk but different levels of excess return, the manager with the higher Sharpe ratio would be preferable because the manager achieved higher return with the same level of risk as the other manager. The Sharpe ratio is most helpful when comparing managers with both different returns and different levels of risk. In this case, the Sharpe ratio provides a per-unit measure of the two managers that enables a comparison.

Conclusion: The Sharpe Ratio is a risk statistic that measures the excess return per unit of Total Risk taken in a portfolio. The excess return is the total excess return without adjustment for risk. The ratio is equal to the excess return divided by the Standard Deviation of the portfolio.

Total Risk

Total risk is a measure of the total volatility of the excess returns of an asset or portfolio.

Conclusion: The total risk is comprised of two measures of risk: market (non-diversifiable or systematic) risk and residual (diversifiable or firm-specific) risk.

Tracking Error

Tracking Error is simply the standard deviation of a portfolio's relative returns (relative to some benchmark). Whereas the standard risk measure of standard deviation measures the absolute return volatility, tracking error measures the volatility of the return differences between the portfolio and the benchmark over time. A portfolio that is actively managed in an aggressive manner would have a large amount of tracking error versus its index, whereas a portfolio that is more constrained to look like its index (an index fund being the extreme) would have smaller amounts of tracking error.

Conclusion: Tracking errors are reported as a "standard deviation percentage" difference. This measure reports the difference between the return an investor receives and that of the benchmark he or she was attempting to imitate.

Statistical Information / Holdings Based Characteristics

Portfolio characteristics generally represent the overall composition of Asset Management Services' managed portfolios. For Raymond James Consulting Services, this data is as of the last day of the most recent quarter. This information is gathered from various sources including Baseline, FactSet, First Call, Compustat, Morningstar, Bloomberg, Russell and Callan PEP and the definitions are as follows:

Active Share: Measures the degree of difference between the composition of a portfolio and its benchmark.

Dividend Yield: Dividend Yield, also known as Current Yield, is a measure of the income generated by a security divided by the price of that security as of a given date. Calculations may vary depending on the manner/frequency of payment:

- For securities paying regular quarterly income such as dividends, (latest quarter payment x 4) / current price
- For securities with semi-annual payments (e.g., some bonds), (latest semi-annual payment x 2) / price
- For securities making annual payments, latest annual payment / price
- For securities making payments of irregular amounts or at irregular intervals, add all the payments from the latest year (whether quarterly, semi-annual, or annual) / price.

Emerging Markets: Represents the current allocation to securities domiciled in countries included in the MSCI Emerging Market Index in addition to Hong Kong.

Forward P/E: Price to Earnings ratio of the next four quarters – the current price divided by the estimated future earnings. If the next four quarter's earnings are all in the same fiscal year, the annual figure is used instead.

LT Debt/Capital: Measures the percent of a company's liabilities with a due date of greater than one year relative to the total capitalization (debt and owners' equity) of the company.

LT Growth Rate: The long-term rate of growth in earnings estimated for a period of five years. Earnings estimates are the median of all contributing analyst estimates.

Median Market Cap: A measure of the overall market cap of a portfolio, it is the middle result of a ranking of the portfolio's holdings by market cap. 50% of the securities in the portfolio are above this market cap and 50% are below.

P/E: Price to Earnings: the share price divided by the trailing / projected four quarter's earnings per share results.

PE/G: Next twelve months price to earnings ratio divided by long-term growth rate (estimated earnings growth over the next five years).

Price/Book: Current share price divided by most recent book value, where book value is viewed as the worth of a company if it were liquidated.

Price/Cash Flow: Current share price divided by cash flow per share for the most recent twelve months.

Price/Sales: Current share price divided by the most recently reported sales per share (the revenue for the last four quarters divided by total shares outstanding).

ROE: The ratio of net income to common equity; measures the rate of return on common stockholders' investment.

Trailing P/E: Current share price divided by the most recent four quarters earnings per share.

Weighted Median Market Cap: A measure of the overall market capitalization of a portfolio, it is calculated by first ranking the companies in ascending order based on market cap and then summing the weights of the positions until the 50th percent holding is reached. This position's market cap is considered the weighted median market cap. 50% of the dollars invested in the portfolio are in securities with higher market caps and 50% are invested in securities with lower market caps.

Current Style Allocation: Represents the current allocation to small-, mid-, and large-cap securities, as well as value, blend, and growth securities, with breakpoints defined by Russell's most recent benchmark reconstitution.

Dispersion of Performance: Represents the net return of the best-performing and worst-performing accounts in a given performance composite for the most recent quarter. These values establish the range of returns used in arriving at the average composite return figure.

Top Holdings: The top holdings are a snapshot of the most highly weighted positions in a portfolio as of the last day of the most recent quarter. The data is compiled using the overall holdings, thus the information given may not match individual accounts exactly.

Average Coupon: the weighted average of the "face rate" of interest paid on the bonds in the portfolio.

Duration: A measure of the sensitivity of the price (the value of principal) of a fixed-income investment to a change in interest rates. Duration is expressed as a number of years.

Effective Duration: A statistical approximation of the price sensitivity of a bond to a change in market yields. For example, the value of a portfolio with a duration of 4 would be expected to change by 1% for every 0.25% change in the market rate. It considers embedded options as well as maturity and coupon rates but may underestimate actual portfolio volatility in times of volatility.

Maturity: The period of time for which a financial instrument remains outstanding. Maturity refers to a finite time period at the end of which the financial instrument will cease to exist and the principal is repaid with interest.

Average Maturity: The weighted average years to maturity of portfolio holdings.

Yield to Worst: The lowest potential yield that can be received on a bond without the issuer actually defaulting. The yield to worst is calculated by making worst-case scenario assumptions on the issue by calculating the returns that would be received if provisions, including prepayment, call or sinking fund, are used by the issuer.

Turnover: is an estimate of the manager's level of trading activity. It is an average of purchases and sales divided by average assets, presented as a long-term annual average.

Market-cap is a measure of the size of companies and is calculated by multiplying the shares outstanding by its price per share. Market caps greater than $10 billion are typically viewed as Large, while those less than $2 billion are Small Cap. Mid-Cap stocks fall between these ranges. Dispersion is the difference between the highest and the lowest performing accounts in a composite for the most recent quarter, net of fees. The difference illustrates the range of returns around reported performance.

Up/Down Market Quarterly Excess Return vs. Benchmark: chart displays the quarterly excess return (positive or negative) versus a benchmark. Each bar is color coded to represent a positive benchmark return or a negative benchmark return (black bar in an up market, white bar in a down). This chart is intended to illustrate participation in up and down markets. Please note that positive chart values do not necessarily represent positive total returns for a quarter. A composite with a total return of -5% will appear as +2% in a white bar when compared to a benchmark that returned -7% over the same quarter.

Quarterly Attribution: reports are used to explain portfolio performance relative to a benchmark. The Quarterly Attribution chart found in A Closer Look displays the most additive (top five) and most detractive (bottom five) portfolio holdings or index holdings (if underweight) over the most recent quarter. The chart displays both the portfolio's over- or underweight position (O/U Weight) in a security relative to its weight in the benchmark and the consequential performance of that holding over the most recent quarter (Total Effect). It is important to remember that attribution analyses measure performance relative to the portfolio's benchmark. While quarterly performance is informative, we encourage investors to judge investment skill over long time horizons.

Composite Yield: The individual income yield is calculated for each account in the composite (income received over the quarter / accounts average value). Those yields are then summed and divided by the number of accounts in the composite. This is not representative of a yield realized by any client and is not intended to project the income that a client should expect.

Definition of Investment Objectives

Large-cap Value: This asset class represents managers that seek appreciation of capital over time through investments in equities. Equity components will generally consist of stocks with low P/E ratios and lower than average projected earnings growth. The market capitalization of the equity components of a large-cap manager will generally be greater than $10 billion.

Large-cap Blend: This asset class represents managers that seek capital appreciation through a combination of growth and value equity investments. The market capitalization of the equity components of a large-cap manager will generally be greater than $10 billion.

Large-cap Growth: This asset class represents managers that seek to maximize long term growth in capital through investments in equities. Equity components will generally have higher than average P/E ratios and earnings growth rates. The market capitalization of the equity components of a large-cap manager will generally be greater than $10 billion.

Mid-cap Blend: This asset class seeks capital appreciation through a combination of growth and value equity investments. The market capitalization of the majority of the equity positions of a mid-cap manager will generally be between $1.5 billion and $10 billion.

Small-cap Blend: This asset class represents managers that seek capital appreciation through a combination of growth and value equity investments. The market capitalization of the majority of the equity positions of a small-cap manager will generally be less than $1.5 billion. Investing in smaller companies generally involves greater risks than investing in larger, more established companies.

Government: This asset class represents managers that seek to earn income by investing primarily in Treasuries and U.S. government agency securities. Government backing applies only to the timely payment of principal and interest on the underlying securities and does guarantee that you will not lose money.

Corporate: This asset class represents managers that seek to provide current income through investments in higher quality debt securities. Capital preservation is a secondary objective, achieved by maintenance of a prudent level of risk. Guarantees of repayment of principal and interest do not apply to the market prices and yields of the securities which will vary with changes in interest rates and other market conditions.

High Yield: This asset class represents managers that seek to maximize current income and/or total return through investments in lower rated, higher risk, debt securities. High Yield bonds are rated below investment grade quality and entail significant credit and liquidity risks relative to more highly rated fixed income securities.

Real Estate Securities: This asset class represents managers that seek current income and/or total return through a combination of investments in real estate securities. Managers do not invest directly in real estate, but instead generally take positions in real estate investment trusts (REITs) and real estate operating companies. The REIT positions may include equity REITs, fixed income REITs, or hybrid REITs. Investments in real estate securities have risks associated with declines in property values, increasing property taxes, interest rates, zoning laws, overbuilding, and losses from casualty or condemnation.

International: This asset class represents managers that seek long term capital appreciation by investing primarily in companies outside of the United States, including emerging markets in some instances. Companies of all cap sizes may be considered. Investments are primarily ADR equities and may be subject to additional risks such as currency fluctuations, differing financial accounting standards by country, and possible political and economic risks.

Definition of Investment Styles

Deep Value: An approach that seeks to identify deeply undervalued stocks as measured by valuation criteria applied to the overall market such as price-to-book, value, price-to-earnings, discount-to-private market value, discount-to-breakup value, etc. The deep value approach often includes an analysis of the underlying assets of the company and does not necessarily require a visible catalyst (i.e., restructuring, management change, etc.) at the time of purchase. The deep value approach generally leads itself to concentration in particular market sectors, as these sectors as a whole become undesirable to investors due to legal, industry, or regulatory concerns. This approach is perhaps the most aggressive of the value styles and tends to exhibit less consistent return patterns with potentially higher returns. The deep value style tends to underperform in strong bull markets and outperform in bear markets.

Traditional (Basic) Value: An approach that looks for stocks using traditional valuation techniques such as low price-to-earnings, price-to-book value, price-to-cash flow, etc. These value strategies tend to be less concentrated in various industries, but generally are characterized by sectors such as financials, industrials, basic materials, and energy. The traditional value style may require a visible catalyst (i.e., restructuring, management change, etc.) before initiating a position. This style tends to be less aggressive than deep value and is not likely to participate fully in growth-led markets. Traditional value strategies typically track the value indices more closely than either deep or relative value.

Relative Value: An approach that seeks undervalued stocks in all sectors of the market. This style may include stocks from more traditional growth sectors such as technology, health care and telecommunications. Because it tends to combine both value and growth elements, its return patterns are somewhat more consistent over time relative to a deep value approach. However, in market conditions characterized by a strong preference for value securities, the relative value style tends to underperform traditional and deep value.

Core Value (Value/Blend): An approach that invests in stocks with market-like metrics, but with a slight value tilt resulting from a reasonable valuation requirement. It is typical to observe portfolio price multiples to earnings, book value, and sales below that of the core market proxy with a marginally higher dividend yield. Strategies employing this discipline are often slightly more aggressive than relative value but less aggressive than core growth, expected to outperform value in a growth-led market.

Core: An approach that exhibits portfolio characteristics that are similar to that of a non-style biased market proxy. Usually, Core disciplines seek to add value over and above this index while keeping tracking variance relatively low. Core strategies often employ a diversified sector strategy that attempt to limit construction deviance from the market proxy. As such, the primary driver for outperformance is viewed to be security selection.

Core Growth (Growth-At-A-Reasonable-Price or GARP): An approach that looks first for growth prospects but takes a stock's valuation into consideration before purchase. Typically, this style holds stocks with more modest growth rates or stocks with a balance between growth and P/E ratio (often know as a P/E to growth or PEG ratio). This style tends to participate well in a modest growth environment. There is some overlap between GARP and relative value styles. Similar to the relative value style, GARP strategies tend to exhibit more consistency in their return patterns than other growth or value styles.

Controlled Growth: An approach that seeks to invest in companies with sustainable growth prospects with more reasonable valuations than their traditional growth counterparts. Controlled growth strategies tend to outperform higher earnings growth styles in bear markets and underperform in momentum markets.

Traditional Growth: An approach that seeks to invest in companies with sustainable, above-average growth prospects. These portfolios tend to concentrate their holdings in sectors such as technology, health care and consumer discretionary stocks. These strategies tend to exhibit less consistency of returns than the overall market in the short-term. Traditional growth strategies tend to outperform the overall market in strong bull markets but underperform the market and controlled growth philosophies in bear markets, or markets favoring low priced companies. Traditional growth strategies typically track the growth indices more closely than either aggressive or controlled growth.

High (Aggressive) Growth: An approach that seeks to invest in companies that exhibit positive earnings and/or price momentum. This style tends to concentrate their holdings in sectors such as technology, health care and telecommunications. Similar to deep value, this strategy tends to exhibit less consistency while seeking higher potential returns. Aggressive growth strategies tend to outperform in strong bull markets and underperform in bear markets.

Glossary of Terms

American Depositary Receipt (ADR): An American Depositary Receipt (or ADR) represents the ownership in the shares of a foreign company trading on US financial markets. The stock of many non-US companies trades on US exchanges through the use of ADRs. ADRs enable US investors to buy shares in foreign companies without undertaking cross-border transactions. ADRs carry prices in US dollars, pay dividends in US dollars, and can be traded like the shares of US-based companies.

Asset Allocation: Represents the average amount of equities, fixed income, and cash a manager is holding in Raymond James Consulting Services wrap accounts as of the last day of the most recent quarter. The data is compiled using the manager as a whole, thus the information given may not match individual accounts exactly.

Benchmark Index: Selected by AMS Manager Research from published indices based on historical returns correlation and consistency with the applicable discipline's investment process and/or holdings. Disciplines that cross asset classes or investment strategies may be shown with a blended benchmark using a combination of indices considered to be representative of the elements of the discipline. There are inherent limitations when assigning a benchmark index to an allocation discipline such as the volatility of the benchmark. Standard deviation may be materially different than that of the discipline and the benchmark may have a lower correlation to the discipline (as represented by R Squared). Standard Deviation and R Squared data is available upon request. Indices are not available for direct investment. Any product which attempts to mimic the performance an index will incur expenses such as management fees and transaction costs that reduce returns.

Bond Allocation: Delineates the percent of fixed income instruments by the duration of the instrument as well as the quality of the holding.

Buys & Sells: Buys are new holdings a manager has acquired in the most recent quarter. Sells are positions that a manager has completely sold out of in the most recent quarter. It is possible that not all individual accounts will hold a listed buy, but no account will hold a listed sell as of the last day of the most recent quarter.

Covered Call: A covered call is either the simultaneous purchase of stock and the sale of a call option, or the sale of a call option covered by underlying shares currently held by an investor. Generally, one call option is sold, or "written", for every 100 shares of stock owned. The seller, or "writer", receives cash for selling the call but will be obligated to sell the stock at the call's strike price if assigned, thereby capping further upside stock price participation. In other words, an investor is "paid" for agreeing to sell his holdings at a certain level (the strike price). For this reason, the covered call is considered a neutral to moderately bullish strategy.

Dispersion of Performance: Represents the return of the best account and the worst account in a given discipline for the most recent quarter on a net/ net basis. The difference in the performance is an indicator of performance dispersion around the reported composite performance for each manager.

Efficient Frontier: The efficient frontier represents the set of portfolios that will give you the highest return at each level of risk (or, alternatively, the lowest risk for each level of return).

Interest Rate Sensitivity Analysis: Volatility study that outlines the approximate percent change in the portfolio based on a myriad of interest rate scenarios. Calculation is based upon the modified duration of the portfolio; no convexity adjustments have been made. Generally speaking, as interest rates rise, bond prices fall and vice versa.

Morningstar Average Fund Group: Represents the Morningstar Fund Category Performance that Raymond James believes correlates to and is representative of the stated objective. This data point provides an additional overview of how a particular manager's strategy stacks up against the comparable average fund group as a whole.

Style Allocation: The equity style box is a nine-box matrix that displays both the manager's investment methodology-- as determined by FactSet's six-factor Russell Index constituency comparison -- and the size of the companies in which it invests based on the positions held as of the last day of the quarter. Combining these two variables offers a broad view of where the managers are looking for value. For a complete and detailed explanation of the proprietary method used to determine the allocations, please call our Due Diligence department.

The CPI is based on the prices of the following: food, clothing, shelter, and fuels, transportation fares, doctors' charges and dental services, drugs, and other goods and services the consumers purchase for day-to-day living. Each month prices are collected in 87 urban areas across the country from approximately 4,000 housing units and 26,000 retail establishments such as department stores, supermarkets, hospitals, filling stations, and other types of service establishments and stores.
